

News of Old Girls.

WAR Work in many forms has claimed the time of many of our old girls during the last four and a half years. Nora Evans was the only V.A.D. mentioned in General Sir Edmund Allenby's last despatch. She has been nursing in Egypt for over three years, and is now stationed at Kantara, just east of the Suez Canal. Mabel Wainwright has been awarded the M.B.E. for hospital work. Ruth Bailey, Vera Haig, Norah Turner, and Dorothy McGill are some of the many who have been nursing during the War.

In the Women's Army Service Corps we must mention Louise Chaffers, who has a Commission, Ellie McNicol and Bessie Sedgley, who are working in France, Doris Mottershall, who has been working as a cook at Salonika, and Kathleen Hale and Gladys Hoffert, who have been motor drivers.
