EDITORIAL.

UNDOUBTEDLY the event of this Term has been the brilliant display of the First XI. at Cricket. All former records have been broken, for the team has been unbeaten. We take this opportunity of congratulating Rees on his most successful season.

Camp is now the topic of the day, for Aldershot will be a new experience for all of us. To make things more interesting we are taking a stronger company than we have done in former years, and everyone is looking forward to a fully occupied and enjoyable time. Although so many have obtained permission to go, there are still a few, fortunately not many, who have leave to go but do not care to do so, because they say it is "too far." We should like to remind those fellows that we do not go to camp solely for our own pleasure, but to represent our School, and give it a good name. Poor creatures! we wonder if they will get on in the world, as long as they shirk duties because "it is too much fag."

Our Chapel is rapidly being built, and it really seems as if it will be completed by the arranged time of the contract. If so, it will be a great day in the annals of the College. How many generations will stand and gaze upon it, and think of that glorious time, when the structure was erected within the term of the contract?

Before we close we should like to remind all O.C.s that there is always a great scarcity of O.C. news in our numbers, and that they would greatly assist us if they would send us any news which we might publish.

COMMEMORATION AND SPEECH DAY.

An ordinary Speech Day, after the functions of the last two years was quite a novelty. To some it was rather a shock to remember that it might be the last of the "old order," but to all who were in our crowded little chapel for the Commemoration Service, it was a relief. The Provost told us that next year it might be in our Permanent Chapel, which is just rising to view. It was good news which heartened all who had endured the heat of the old chapel, for as usual our Speech Day was gloriously fine.

A Choral Eucharist was sung at 8 a.m., when the Provost was the celebrant. It was rendered with that heartiness and reverence which we hope will long continue to be characteristic of our services. After breakfast the School was given up to bands of workers, who converted the Great Hall and Cloisters into summer-like retreats. The Final Dormitory Match began about eleven, and soon after our visitors began to appear.

The Commemoration Service began at 3 p.m. This year it was thought more convenient to hold the whole service in the Chapel. After the Te Deum and Laus Patrono, the Bishop of Derby gave a fine scholarly sermon, in which he pointed out the necessity of following in the steps of the Divine Master. It was an impressive address, and the fact that it was His Lordship's first sermon to us since his consecration, helped to emphasize his message.

The Prizes were distributed in the Great Hall. Provost Talbot, in his opening speech, took the Minister of Education's latest pronouncement as his theme. He dealt with it in a spirit of fair criticism which at times provoked much amusement. Much applause greeted his final remark, that the Woodard Schools would never attempt to educate their children on stereotyped lines with undenominational teaching. We are afraid also that it will be long before a Worksop boy will come forward to claim the prize for the most wooden head, which alone would enable him to equal Mr. McKenna's paragon boy-mechanician. Before asking Sir Frederick Milner to give away the prizes, the Provost called on the Headmaster for his report.

We gathered from it that the School year had certainly been successful from every point of view. After pointing out the numerous internal improvements which had been effected, the Headmaster showed how the School had kept pace with these in every way. The School numbers had been maintained, and they could still say, with 193 boys on the books, that it was full, whilst the applications for next term were coming in fast. The results of the Local Examinations had never been beaten, and in other examinations we had been most successful. W. A. Silvester's success at London was specially mentioned. The O.T.C. had increased in numbers, and the Shooting VIII. had beaten all previous scores in their matches. The Headmaster congratulated

Mr. Buckley and S. E. W. Rees on the great success of the Cricket XI., which for the first time in the School's history had an unbeaten record.

Sir Frederick Milner then presented the prizes, and in reply to a vote of thanks, mentioned his pleasure that at last he was able to fulfil this long-standing engagement. In the course of a fine manly speech he warned the boys against the curse of gambling, which, he said, was not only corrupting all classes in England, but had begun to affect the Public Schools. He drew attention to their Graces of Portland and Newcastle, and others in the Dukeries, who, though enthusiastically supporting sport, never indulged in gambling.

Tea was then served near the Cricket Ground, where the match was continued. During tea there were songs and part songs rendered by the Choir, who did full justice to Mr. Golding's careful training and attention.

Song (W. B. Binder), "Now sleeps the crimson petal," Roger Quilter. Solos with six-part Chorus (W. B. Binder, G. D. Coates, and the School Choir), "Ye spotted snakes" (from the incidental music to the "Midsummer Night's Dream," Mendelssohn). Song (G. D. Coates) "O my luv'e's like a red, red, rose," Percy W. Golding. Three-part Chorus (The School Choir) "Through the house" (from incidental music to the "Midsummer Night's Dream"), Mendelssohn.

CRICKET.

Mansfield.

This match was played on Saturday, June 18th, and resulted in an easy win for us by five wickets and 96 runs. We batted first and made 156 for 5 wickets. Pickett was caught unluckily off his glove, the first ball of the innings. Rees max played well, but the honours of the day were divided between Godley and Holloway. Both seemed perfectly at ease, and played the bowling admirably.

Mansfield were able to offer no effective resistance against the bowling of C. L. J. Rees and Curtis. Rees was most deadly and secured 6 wickets for 26 runs.

Ellesmere.

On June 22nd and 23rd, we received our second visit from Ellesmere. It was the third match of the series and provided a small "backwater" in the rapid stream of mental stress and energy. It had been eagerly looked forward to by many as the best match of the season, and by a few as a change from the coy Greek prose, and the elusive square root. A two-day's match is always so dignified after the scramble of the usual half-holiday fixture, and appears such "grown-up" cricket. The visitors arrived and barely in time to start at 3-30, but were unfortunate in losing the toss. Rees and Pickett opened our innings, and assisted by a few full-pitches to leg, quickly put on 40 runs. After they were out, we had a bad time, quickly losing three more wickets. Then Davis, assisted by Christison and Rees mi, made a splendid stand, and enabled us to put together 150 before we were all disposed of. When the Ellesmere innings began, they found runs very hard to get. Curtis bowled splendidly, and at his very fastest. By the time stumps were drawn for the day they had only made 40 for the loss of six wickets. The game was resumed next morning, but at so early an hour that our local reporter was not able to be present, and the interesting facts of the early cricket must be read between the lines of the score sheet. When he did appear, he found that Ellesmere had been "outed" for 53, Worksop had made 60 for three wickets and declared, so that our visitors were once again facing "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune." They had been set 150 to make to win, but found it beyond their powers. They were all out for 66 just before lunch, leaving us victorious by 91 runs. Curtis bowled splendidly all through, and took 11 wickets for 48, while the fielding was excellent on the whole. We were very pleased to notice the sportsmanlike action of the visiting captain in our first innings, and trust that his example will be noted and followed. It was very pleasant to welcome Mr. Evans, who was in charge of the visitors, amongst us again. We learn that he was a master here in the dim, dark ages, when Worksop was just learning to play cricket.

King Edward VII. School, Sheffield.

Played on our ground on June 25th, and resulted in an easy win for us by 2 wickets and 60 runs. Sheffield batted first, and were soon dismissed for the small total of 48 runs. Our bowling was throughout exceptionally good, both Curtis and Greeves bowling with deadly effect. With the exception of Davis and Godley, our batting was not good; but on the contrary, decidedly weak. Davis played well and had hard luck in not getting his half-century. Godley's was cricket of a more sensational character, but his hitting was accurate.

The match was an interesting one, for both teams met with neither having lost a match, but towards the end we managed to win easily.

Nottingham High School.

We again were lucky to draw with Nottingham. The side was painfully nervous, fielding in half-hearted fashion, bowling with little sting, and our batting was a mere apology of its real self. We assumed that we would win the game—if the side showed its usual form. The assumption proved false, for the team for once disappointed us. Of course, it is the usual procedure to give of our worst against Notts., but it is high time that our cricket team forgot their old-time fear of Nottingham in the remembrance of their own new-found capability. The only bright points in our display were the confident and invaluable innings of Rees max, and the plucky efforts of Godley and Rees mi. Rees batted in that large-hearted fashion that we know him to be capable of, and showed that he, at least, was not affected by the occasion.

Chesterfield.

Played on our ground on Saturday, July 2nd, and once more resulted in a decisive victory. Chesterfield chose to bat first, and were all out for 49. Pickett and Greeves opened our innings, and the issue of the match was soon evident, as the first wicket fell for 30 runs. The weather necessitated several stops, but did not seriously affect the state of the pitch.

Mr. Campbell's XI.

This whole-day match was played on our ground on Thursday, July 7th, and resulted in a win for us. Play commenced at 11-45, and at the interval for lunch, about half of our wickets were down. Unfortunately, as is so often the case, the hour's rest proved most fatal to Rees max, who had made 36, for he was bowled in the first over after the interval. Rees mi played well, but our batting on the whole was not good. The second innings we did still worse, and only raised 54. However, none of our opponents, with the exception of A. O. Mason, were able to play our bowling. They only managed to get 50 and 49 for 7 wickets, thus leaving us winners on the first innings.

DORMITORY MATCHES.

Cross v. Lion.

Contrary to expectations this match proved both interesting and exciting. The Lion batted first, and compiled the quite creditable score of 147. Godley batted excellently, and played the bowling confidently and ably. Spink kept a good length, but there was never much sting in his bowling. The fielding was distinctly good, every man in the team making a real effort.

The Cross opened their score exceedingly well, and they reached 60 for the loss of only 3 wickets. Davis played the finest innings of the match, and his 52 was undoubtedly the feature of the game. Walton's bowling, which was pitched rather short, was pulled unmercifully, and Davis was very unlucky to get out lbw. Altogether the Cross managed to get within 30 runs of the Lion.

In the second innings the Upper Dormitory did not fare so well. Godley was easily the best of the batsmen. For the Cross Davis bowled excellently. Losing Davis almost the first over, the Cross made a sporting attempt to knock off the runs. Newton played well, but the last men were soon dismissed.

Fleur-de-Lys v. Crown.

The Fleur-de-Lys batted first, and although the Crown bowling was not brilliant, they were dismissed for the small total of 62. Rees max and Christison alone made scores, and the side as a whole ought to have done much better.

The Crown started fairly well, but after the first two wickets were down, no one made a stand against the bowling of Rees mi and Curtis. Holloway was unlucky in not being able to get anyone to stay in with him, but he would probably have done better if he had put himself in sooner.

The second innings the Fleur-de-Lys did much better, scoring 100 runs for the loss of one wicket. Greeves' batting was far from good, and although he gave several chances, none of the Crown seemed to take advantage of them. Rees was lucky, but he batted well, and thoroughly deserved the runs he got, which can hardly be said of Greeves. The Crown bowling and fielding was lamentably weak, and they did not in any way deserve to do better.

The Crown fared no better in their second innings than their first, being dismissed for the small total of 37.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON 1910.

First XI. matches: Played 15. Won 12. Lost 0. Drawn 3.

Second XI. matches: Played 4. Won 1. Lost 0. Drawn 3.

We commenced our cricket season with a good deal of confidence, not unduly optimistic, but hopeful to a degree, for we seemed to have all the material of a good side. Our batting, we thought would be steady, our fielding we knew would be good, our bowling we hoped would not be found wanting. But we exceeded expectations. Our batting was wonderfully consistent, each man from first to last could be relied on. Our bowling proved really good, and our fielding had a life and vim about it which was bound to be successful by sheer exuberance and keenness. Altogether, we quite deserved our unbeaten record, and the Cricket XI. of 1910, should go down to posterity as a really good school side, not a "one-man" team, but a good all-round capable eleven.

The three draws were against Nottingham twice, and Sheffield once. Against Nottingham we were lucky, and certainly on each occasion deserved defeat. But in neither match did the team play well; they were ill at ease throughout, and apparently held Notts. in wholesome dread,—perhaps not unjustly. It would be unfair to select individual members for special mention so far as the batting was concerned. Sufficient it is to say that Godley got his runs by good, clean hitting, and S. E. W. Rees shewed polish and quick-scoring faculty. In the bowling, Curtis achieved what must be something of a school record, in taking 70 wickets. He kept a good length, and always had the batsmen guessing. C. L. J. Rees improved greatly, and Greeves again proved his worth as a slow bowler. S. E. W. Rees was far away the best field, and his captaincy of the team is above praise. G. F. G. Rees kept wicket in plucky fashion throughout.

The Second XI. again languished through lack of opposition. Still, what few matches they had, proved that they were quite up to average. Christison captained the side capitally, and always batted steadily. Croker was stylish, and Wincott promising. The bowling was steady without being great. Rogerson should be good, and Greeves was very useful. The fielding was the weakest point, with, of course, bright exceptions. The backing up was poor, and as a whole, the side seemed to suffer from stiffness and lack of life in the field.

CHARACTERS OF THE XI.

S. E. W. Rees (Captain). Is quite the most polished bat in the team, but seemed to require critical occasion to make him give of his best. In the field, his picking up and throwing in has been clean and well timed, his catching faultless. Much of the success of the team has been due to his captaincy,—the placing of his field, and changing of bowlers, showing marked insight and intuition.

A. F. Greeves. As a batsman has been disappointing, and has made very little advance on last season. Possesses a fair defence, but has few scoring strokes. Plays back too much, and is inclined to step away from the wicket when making a stroke. Lacks life and dash. An excellent slow leg-break bowler, and a greatly improved field.

S. Y. Holloway. A very pretty bat, with some beautiful, if risky strokes. Possesses a sound defence, and scores well on the on side. Must break himself of the habit of hitting wildly at good length balls. A very good field.

J. B. Walton. A very good left-handed batsman, with a good stroke to the off. Should improve his leg hitting, and must learn to restrain his inclination to hit at good length bowling. As a fielder has not maintained last year's form.

J. McN. Davis. Has greatly improved on last season, and bats in excellent style, and with confidence will make plenty of runs. Plays very straight, with a good hard forward stroke, and hits well to leg. Uncertain field.

S. W. Curtis. An excellent fast bowler, who has bowled excellently throughout the season, considering the number of wickets which have been against him. Has a good ball which comes in from the off. Has not much idea of batting, but can hit.

J. L. Godley. One of the most improved bats in the team, and has been the most consistent run-getter. Rather an uncertain starter, but when once set, scores all round the wicket. An excellent fielder who throws in excellently.

F. L. A. Pickett. A much improved bat, who has made some useful scores. Possesses a good defence, but his forward stroke is not good. Should cultivate more scoring strokes. Lacks hitting power. A fair field.

C. L. J. Rees. A much improved bowler. Bowls a much better length than last year, but still bowls too much on the leg. A very useful bat, but did not quite come up to expectations. A good field.

G. F. G. Rees. Has kept wicket for the First XI. with success. Has a very good idea of a wicket-keeper's duties, and should be very useful next season. A fair bat.

A. N. Spink. Has fully justified his inclusion in the team both for batting and fielding. As a bowler, bowls a good straight ball, but is inclined to pitch them too short.

SECOND XI.

J. T. Christison. A very steady bat. Plays a good straight bat, but should learn to hit loose balls. A very good field.

S. Rogerson. A very fair bat and field. Would be a good bowler if he could be convinced that there is plenty of room for improvement.

W. E. G. Walker. As a bat, though painstaking, has made very little improvement. Slow in the field.

E. H. Lindsell. Has a good notion of batting, especially of the forward stroke. Slow in the field.

E. Croker. Bats in excellent style, and with confidence will make runs. A fair bowler and a good field.

J. W. Greeves. A very useful all-round man. A good bowler, an excellent field, and a fair bat.

L. Wincott. A good bat, and an excellent field. As a bowler, failed in length.

C. S. Moulding. A somewhat erratic bat, hitting wildly at most balls. Has kept wicket for the Second XI. fairly well.

A. G. Hayward. Has lost his bowling altogether, but improved greatly in batting.

O. T. Walton. A good left-handed batsman. Slow in the field.

C. L. M. Brown. Has a lot of batting in him, and should do well. A good field.

O.T.C.

We have much to congratulate ourselves upon this half-term. The Company is numerically stronger than ever it was, and the recruits have now become efficient members of their Sections. The Shooting Eight have surpassed themselves and made a record score; the Certificate Candidates have passed the second part of their examination en masse; finally, we are taking a larger contingent into camp than that of last year. With such causes for congratulation we may well hope for a successful week's training at Aldershot.

We note the following promotions: Corporal K. C. F. Brown to be Sergeant; Lance-Corporals P. E. Cuckow and E. H. Lindsell to be Corporals; Cadets J. E. Lowe and A. B. Browne to be Lance-Corporals.

The second part of Certificate A Examination was held on July 15th. The Examiner was Captain A. G. Luther (3rd Yorks. Regt.) All succeeded in obtaining the necessary 50% marks.

We note with great pleasure the marked improvement in the Band this term—both in the drumming and bugling. The Band has attained to a degree of efficiency which it has seldom, if ever, reached before. This is due very largely to the careful training by Lieut. H. F. Rew, who is to be congratulated on the result of his work, and also to the very capable leadership of Band-Sergt. K. C. F. Brown, whose keenness is infectious, and whose individual excellence on the big drum is most enviable.

Shooting Colours have been awarded to Corpl. S. Y. Holloway, Col-Sergt. F. L. A. Pickett, Corpl. K. C. F. Brown.

SHOOTING.

It is always satisfactory, in recording scores made by the Eight, to find an ascending scale. This year we opened the season with 370 and ended it with 486. Since the first match we have never fallen behind our "last" score, and between these two we put up our School record score of 495. The Eight have never shot better than this year. Keenness, more assiduous attention to detail, and consistent aiming practice have borne good fruit, and the team of 1910 may put away their rifles with the knowledge that they have

CHAPEL NOTES.

We acknowledge, with many thanks, subscriptions from the following, towards the fund for supplying the Chapel with Bibles, Prayer Books, and Hymn Books : The Provost, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Mitchinson, Lord Kenyon, Sir A. P. Heywood Bart., The Rev. the Hon. L. F. Tyrwhitt, the Ven. the Archdeacon of Birmingham, J. A. Brooke, Esq., W. H. Mason, Esq. Up to the present the total amount collected is £13, but we need at least £40. This appeal will be read by hundreds of people, old boys, and others. We ask all who can to help us with a small subscription towards supplying the Chapel with its own books.

The following boys were admitted into the Choir this term : Hubert Baldock, Henry Carter, Albert Cooper, Jack Fish, Ronald Victor Hall, Cecil Jones.

SWIMMING.

Match v. King Edward VII. School, Sheffield.

This match took place in our bath on Wednesday, July 6th, and resulted in a draw in the Swimming events, but a win for us in the Polo by one goal to nil.

1 Team Race—This proved tremendously exciting, but although Croker made a brilliant attempt to reduce the distance between him and his opponent. we lost by about two yards. Payne gave their man a lead by getting in the way of Rees.

2 High Dive—In this the honours were shared, as Thompson and his opponent secured half a mark each. Both dived splendidly, and there was nothing to choose between them.

3 Two Lengths—Won by Croker, who defeated the Sheffield man by about two yards. He swam well, and from the first it was evident who would win.

4 Five Lengths—This was won easily by Payne, who finished quite two-thirds of the bath ahead. Handley swam well for the second place and only lost by a fraction of a second.

5 Plunge—Sheffield won this by a good plunge. Payne was second, but Croker was evidently off form.

Polo—Though our bath is rather small for Polo, quite a good game was witnessed. In the first half neither side scored, but towards the end of the second Croker pushed it through the goal from a melée. The team as a whole played well, but Croker was easily the best.

The weather has not been very conducive to swimming during the latter part of the term, but it has not really affected the "Lengths" and Diving.

The Lion drew with the Cross at Polo, neither side scoring. The Crown defeated the Fleur-de-Lys by 2 goals to 1 (Thompson 1, Holloway 1).

We take this opportunity of expressing our warmest thanks to Mr. Whitley for all the trouble and care he has taken with the bath. The success of the swimming season has been very largely due to the unselfish interest which he has taken in it, and the time he has so readily devoted to this very popular department of our life here. Our thanks are also due to Mr. Keel and Mr. Smith for acting as judges in the Dormitory Diving Competition.

ANNALS.

Subscriptions towards the erection of the Charles Rew Memorial Window in the New Chapel have been received from the following: Messrs. C. B. Thompson, L. Allshorn, A. N. Cockrell, G. A. Bing, R. H. and H. K. N. Birks, G. F. Dale, B. Eastwood, R. G. Thorp, F. W. Mozley, J. Mozley, G. B. Leckenby, W. S. Malton, C. A. S. Bear, G. T.

Osborne, C. H. Harvey, C. R. Goatley, J. C. Cowgill, J. C. Wooler, H. L. Jackson, F. L. H. Jackson, B. Melbourne, M. Addy, D. and H. Harvey, J. Tasker, A. L. Holmes, H. F. Grant, E. W. Stiles, R. V. Patrick, H. Chesterman, A. de V. Wade, C. S. Bing, P. Hancock, N. Martin, J. E. Cowgill, A. N. G. Wood, D. Jordan, C. Arnold, L. K. Beard, W. R. Ramsay, L. G. Hare, J. C. Wooler, The Rev. P. U. Henn.

According to the terms of the contract our new Chapel is to be erected by April next. Already the foundations are laid, and it seems as if at least a great deal of it will be done by next year.

Already there are fifteen entries for new boys next term, and it seems most probable that our numbers will be increased.

The following have been elected by the General Purposes Committee: Captain of Football, F. L. A. Pickett; Captain of Running, C. L. J. Rees; Captain of Fives, J. McN. Davis.

We have had the pleasure of visits from the following this term: W. Tate, Esq., F. Keel, Esq., and E. Cavie, O.C.

The Editor acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following School Magazines: The Alleynian, The Olavian, The Hurstjohnian, The Lancing College Magazine, The Cantuarian, The Cadet, The Bloxhamist.

All MSS. for insertion should be written on one side of the paper only, and sent to the Editor, F. L. A. Pickett.

The Subscription to the Cuthbertian (3/6 a year, or 10/- for three years) should be sent to H. Chesterman, Esq., Worksop College, Notts., to whom also any change in a subscriber's address should be notified.
