EDITORIAL.

WITH the "locals" a thing of the past, and the bath at its minimum state of liquidity, another summer term has fallen out of existence. All is over but the shouting and there seems little time to spare for anything, even for writing an Editorial, and the mind of the hapless wight to whom that task belongs, is a feverish collection of many different impressions. Even the white foolscap provided by the office, chameleon like, seems to hover between bright green and mauve, colours most trying to the editorial eyes. There rise up visions of days spent in splendid idleness after the week which is the hope and dread of every Summer term, visions of adventurous expeditions for marks and mouthfuls in the bath, and visions of cups won and cups lost on the range or on the the cricket field.

After all, there is no term like the one which is just over. If school life cannot be enjoyed then, it never will be. But was there ever such a time when work seemed so hard and play so easy? When the Summer sun shines through the classroom window, Greek is frankly impossible, and even mathematics lose some of their glamour, unlikely as that may seem.

Did we say that all was over but the shouting? Is there not Camp to follow? This year, Salisbury Plain will witness the usual scenes of camp-life. So-called "orderlies" will toil at their buckets as in past years; discipline, with brazen tongue, will awaken her subjects at the same unearthly hours; and we hope that "Uncle Bill" and "Captain Chokey" will be as flourishing as of yore.

CORONATION DAY.

Coronation Day was begun by a Celebration of the Holy Eucharist, attendance at which was voluntary. At nine o'clock came breakfast, followed at ten o'clock by the official service. At eleven o'clock the corps turned out and fired a feu de joie, and beat a tattoo; the flag was run up and saluted. After lunch a series of cricket matches was organized between the Upper and Lower Dormitories in each game. The lowers had the better of it in most of the games; in the first game there was a most exciting finish, and one actually ended in a tie.

Tea at 6 o'clock was followed by evensong at 8-45. At about 9-30 the bonfire, which had been prepared in the South field by Messrs. Smith and Southwell, with the aid of the Scouts, was lit by the Matron. It proved a great success, made a most gratifying flare, and burnt itself completely out before morning. The time while it was burning was filled up with a display of rockets and other fireworks by the bon-fire committee, and the College dray was brought forward laden with a piano, from which an impromptu concert was administered to the crowd. The programme was as follows: Songs: "There is a tavern in the town" by J. W. F. Davis, "Land of hope and glory" by Miss Hunt, "Clementine" by A. M. Thompson, "Somewhere" by Mr. Keel, "Any rags" by Mr. H. F. Rew. There was also a Yorkshire recitation by Mr. Cowgill. Thanks are heartily accorded to the Matron, Mr. Golding, and J. H. F. Clarke for their assistance at the piano. Last of all came a torchlight tattoo by the Corps, in which they performed many complicated manœuvres. The evolutions had been well practised beforehand and were well executed, but the effect to the onlookers was somewhat spoilt by the behaviour of the torches, which seemed very imperfectly fitted for their particular task. Thus ended a thoroughly enjoyable day.

CRICKET.

FIRST ELEVEN MATCHES.

Mansfield Grammar School.

This match was played at Worksop, on Saturday, June 17th. The result was an easy victory for us. Mansfield were readily dismissed by Spink and Rees, the former especially bowling very well. He kept a good length with quite a lot of break from the off. The fielding was good and G. F. Rees kept wicket splendidly.

We had little difficulty in passing our opponent's score, although the first few men were easily got rid of. The result was never in doubt, and we should certainly have scored far more runs. C. J. Rees, who is about the most consistent scorer in the team, again got runs, and moreover, got them well. Walton hit the right balls for some time, and we had plenty of time to get the necessary number before rain came. We must apologise if any inaccuracies have crept into the scores given below.

Ellesmere.

Played at Ellesmere on June 28th and 29th. The wicket looked fairly easy, and although a strong cross wind caused the ball to swing right away on occasion, it is difficult to understand the low scoring. We started fairly well, Davis, Rees ma, and Christison all batted confidently. Rees especially got runs quickly and well. A bad "rot" set in, however, and with seven wickets down for fifty-four at the close of play, we were in a decidedly uncomfortable position. Hopwood was chiefly responsible for the collapse, varying his pace and length considerably, and aided by a rather poor light, he had five wickets for none overnight. Resuming next day we were quickly out for the poor score of 74, Rees max alone batting at all well of the later batsmen.

We got rid of Ellesmere for forty-seven. This was chiefly due to good bowling backed up by fair fielding. Rees bowled well at first but rather unnecessarily commenced bowling slow leg-breaks, which proved costly. Rogerson bowled steadily and well, and Spink polished off the "tail" in summary fashion, taking the last three wickets for four runs. He kept a good length and sent down an occasional break-back from the off which was particularly deadly.

We began our second innings most disastrously. Rees ma again batted well, and Davis looked comfortable enough but he was very well caught in the long field off a good hit. Christison and Hayward went in and simply playing for "keeps," managed to put a better complexion on affairs. Both batted well but especially Christison, who played splendidly for his side. Walton ma made some good leg hits, and we finished up with a total of 86.

Ellesmere needed 114 to win. These they quite failed to get, though Shields made a most plucky attempt to get the runs, and we were not comfortable until he found one from Spink too good for him. Our fielding was decidedly good, Walton and Rees taking particularly fine catches. The great fault in the fielding throughout was the number of runs lost through slowness in turning and running. Rees met with no success, being far too short. Spink again bowled really well, and Rogerson kept a good length throughout. So we won fairly comfortably by 41 runs.

Nottingham High School.

This match was played on our own ground, on July 1st. To say the least of it, the result was hardly creditable; nor is there any perceptible reason to account for the ignominious breakdown in the team's batting. The visitors' bowling cannot be pleaded as an adequate excuse, as it required careful watching and nothing more: of this, surely, the First Eleven should be capable. It is easy to pile coals of fire and criticism on the heads of those unfortunates who made, between them, no less than seven "good round scores" (too round, alas!) but the fact remains that either we have a poor batting side, or that we suffered from an exceedingly bad attack of stage-fright.

The game itself was uninteresting. Davis and Walton opened the game, and our innings, but the former's stumps were upset by Goddard at the beginning of the second over. Walton, who batted vigourously, although not carefully, was dismissed by Tonkin (R. S.) whose bowling seemed to confound our best. Rees (C. L. J.) who had followed Davis, survived for some time and made the top score for his side, although he batted badly: luck favoured him until he touched a good ball from Newham into the hands of Tonkin, in the slips. The rest of our innings was a mere procession of players from pavilion to pitch and back again, only relieved by Alcock, who hit hard and played determinedly, deserving every run he made, although giving two chances. Our opponents did not seem troubled by the prospect of having to score 51 runs for victory. Tonkin (R. S.) and Boyd punished Spink freely, although both became his ultimate victims. Rogerson bowled nine overs, and although he secured no wickets, had very few runs knocked off him, having three successive maidens to his credit. Rees bowled well, keeping a good length, and a fair pace. In fielding, we compared favourably with our opponents. Had the fielding and batting standards been equal, we could not have failed to secure a victory in the place of a defeat by four wickets.

King's School, Grantham.

On July 8th, we journeyed to Grantham and won by 32 runs. The College batted first on a hard wicket but started disastrously, Davis being lbw when the score was only 2. After the addition of 4 runs, Christison was dismissed for a similar offence. Shortly afterwards Walton max, who was playing very cautiously, received a nasty blow on the head in attempting to hit a full toss, and was compelled to retire. The next three wickets only put on 23 runs. Walton had by this time sufficiently recovered from his accident to continue his innings; batting with more freedom, he severely punished the bowling, and when an adjournment was made for lunch, the score stood at 68. Resuming, Walton batted brilliantly, hitting all round the wicket in magnificent style, and compiled 50 before he was caught by Bark. He received admirable assistance from Sanderson, who made a careful but useful 9. Brown made the second highest score. Our total was 125.

Grantham started in feeble fashion, the first 4 wickets realising only 7 runs. The eighth wicket fell at 37. Spink's bowling completely nonplussed our opponents, he captured no fewer than six wickets in his first five overs. The advent of Purser put a different complexion on the state of affairs, he hit out at every ball and quickly made 30, which included two 6's and a 4. Grantham made 93.

Our fielding was very good indeed, Christison and Walton both effecting smart captures in the deep field. There is no doubt that the Grantham score would have been considerably less, if Spink had been taken off, when he was thoroughly tired out, and replaced by a slow bowler.

Mr. Campbell's XI.

This match was played at home on July 13th. The team which opposed us, although composed of somewhat mixed elements, on winning the toss, speedily showed their batting powers. The first wicket fell for twenty-nine runs, but sixty-six runs were telegraphed when the second followed its example. Hard hitting seemed to be the order of the day with our opponents. The opposing captain was no exception to the rule, hitting Christison's deliveries freely, scoring three fours in one over, in three successive balls, and one more in the next over, which was crowned by a well-hit six. Had not our opponents' tail failed to wag, the score would have been a formidable one. As it was, our men finished batting with the excellent reply of ninety-three runs to one hundred and twelve. Of this total, J. B. Walton and G. F. G. Rees contributed the largest shares. The latter especially batted well, though he might easily have avoided his ultimate fate.

A second innings was played by both sides during the short time which was to spare; in it, the two men who went in first giving the onlookers a fine example of vigorous hitting. After the fall of the second wicket, the informal innings was brought to a close, and our opponents, in a very sporting manner, put us in again "for a knock." Davis punished the rustic bowlers freely, and Alcock hit out well; Rogerson, after a few efforts to hit out, was rewarded by two fours, in a style we should like to see at other times. On the whole, our fielding was good. Brown and Alcock seemed quick on the ball; Alcock should avoid turning before throwing the ball in. Rees did the lion's share of the bowling, but Rogerson was hit mercilessly, Christison, although he was hit about at times, was in good form. Spink's was quite unsuccessful.

Retford Grammar School.

Played at Retford, on Saturday, July 15th. Retford batted first and were got rid of for 65 runs. For their score our opponents were chiefly indebted to a lusty 27 by Wood and the large number of extras. The latter were due largely to the poor wicket. Rogerson bowled steadily, but Walton was most effective when he came on late in the innings. He took four wickets for six runs. The catching was good and the fielding quite creditable when the state of the outfield is taken into consideration.

We got the necessary runs for four wickets, and could no doubt have got a bigger score if it had been required. Davis collected 20 in very little time, and Rees was top scorer with 31. He got a number of fours in quick succession and made the game quite safe. The best innings was played by Christison, who batted well for his runs and was undefeated at the close. Our total reached 108 so we won by 43 runs.

Mr. S. E. W. Rees' XI.

Played at Worksop, on Saturday, July 22nd, and won by 9 wickets. This whole day match completed our fixture list, and demonstrated the improvement the team has made in the course of the term. Rees brought a side largely composed of Old Boys, and one certainly as strong as the Old Cuthbertian team which so easily beat us on Whit-Monday. We were short of J. B. Walton and Christison but luckily they were not missed.

Rogerson and C. J. Rees bowled exceedingly well, and it was an excellent performance to keep the score down to 52. Holloway again batted well, and provided us with that delight of all the spectators, the sight of a batsman in a hurry to get runs. C. J. Rees's slow leg-break was very effective, but Rogerson got very short towards the end. The fielding was good.

Our score was chiefly built up by a good stand by Davis and Alcock. They put on 99 runs for the third wicket, and both played remarkably good cricket. Davis was good all round the wicket, but especially in the hard off-drive which has become the feature of his batting. He was always scoring steadily, and included in his seventy, were nine fours. Alcock was a good deal slower, but nevertheless did not forget to punish the bad ones. His back play was especially good. Before this C. J. Rees had given the side a good start, with his usual useful score. The later batsmen all failed, although Hayward looking like getting runs. Godley was deadly on such a wicket and took seven wickets for 15 runs.

Our opponents just managed to avoid the innings defeat, but this they would certainly not have done if our fielding had been at all good. A number of easy catches were missed. Holloway again batted well, and Greeves plodded along in his old style. Rees was thoroughly well set when the last wicket fell and played polished cricket. We only required 2 runs to win and lost one wicket in getting them.

SECOND ELEVEN.

Notts. High School.

Played at Nottingham, on July 1st. Notts. won the toss but were soon all out for 60. Brown and Baldock bowled very well, keeping a good length. The fielding was very good, our team evidently appreciating the excellent outfield, as with one exception all the batsmen were caught. Fisher-Brown, in particular, kept wicket splendidly, catching the first three men and not giving away a single bye. We were left with less than an hour to score the runs, but we managed to win comfortably by five wickets, thanks to some splendid hitting by Bott. Unfortunately he was caught at 42 and did not stay to make the winning hit.

Played at Worksop, on July 18th. The visitors were poorly represented and could only make 31. Bean and

We managed to make the runs directly after the second wicket fell, Walker making 20 of them by careful cricket. After the winning hit was made, Kirkbride and Sanderson hit out lustily and put on 70 runs in about 40 minutes. CLUB MATCHES.

Welbeck.

This match was played on June 14th, at Welbeck, and resulted in a win for the home team by 10 wickets. This seemingly appalling defeat was really not the fault of our team, which certainly showed excellent form. The two members of the Welbeck team, who knocked up so many runs in such a short time, were perhaps the best bats we have ever had to face: one certainly was, and he gave us as pretty an exhibition of hard and scientific hitting as could be wished for by spectators or dreaded by bowlers. In Malthouse and Mr. Raikes our opponents possessed skilful bowlers of some reputation. On the other hand some of our men failed to come up to the opportunities given by one of the finest and truest pitches in England. G. F. G. Rees played a sterling game, showing decided promise. Davis batted well, but was inclined to be careless. The tail-end failed to wag in any pronounced fashion. Until Walton learns to run with his bat down, he will continue to be dismissed in the same way as he was in this match. We were glad to note the general increase of confidence during our innings, and also the fact that not all the many "sixes" went to the other team. Rees bowled well under the circumstances. Rogerson also sent down some excellent balls, but got very short under punishment. The fielding was good, Christison being especially noticeable in smart throwing-in. Davis was also good, and Rees kept wicket excellently.

Mr. B. K. Bond's XI.

Played at Worksop, on Thursday, July 20th. Mr. Bond had got a strong side together, and they were lucky enough to win the toss. Despite the rather bumpy wicket they put together a really good total. Skene was chiefly responsible for this, and he got 95 by vigorous cricket. He was rather lucky in being missed twice but nevertheless it was a good attractive innings, in which the chief feature was good on-driving. Rees was very strong on the leg side but he was out lbw trying to push a straight one round. Campbell hit lustily and the innings was declared when the total had reached 207 for seven wickets.

Although handicapped by lameness, Mr. Southwell got runs as usual. He was out to one that kicked badly, after a very sound innings. The rest of our batting does not call for comment; it was a rather lamentable exhibition. Armitage bowled well and their fielding was excellent.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON 1911.

	Played	Won	Lost	Drawn
Results: 1st XI. School Matches	9	6	2	1
„ All Matches	15	7	5	3
2nd XI.	5	3	2	0

As will be seen from the above results, most of the matches against Schools have been won, but the matches against Clubs have produced very poor results. But as the School Matches are the important ones we can be content, and look back on a creditable and satisfactory season.

The matches lost were both against Nottingham ; as on former occasions, we quite failed to produce our best form against the strongest team meet. The drawn game was the return with Sheffield, when time alone saved the visitors, the game being left greatly in our favour. The other school matches have all been won, and moreover, won very easily. We cannot select any particular match as being particularly creditable, for in all of our victories the form shown has been quite good. We can only lament that the match with Sheffield was unfinished, and that Nottingham always appear so formidable. To dismiss them for 102 on a good wicket at Nottingham was wholly praiseworthy, but then to scrape together a paltry 63 was just as blameworthy and annoying.

The batting has improved greatly. Not that we had so many good bats as last year, but that down to the last man, all were capable of making runs, and moreover in quite good style. Perhaps the worst fault was a tendency to try and push straight balls to fine leg, a fatal mistake in a schoolboy. This undoubtedly accounted for the large number of lbws. The batting as a whole lacked power, a fault which was simply the result of lack of physique in most cases. Davis, who captained the side well, has developed into a really good quick scoring batsman. Walton was of great use to the team as a left-hander with excellent notions of playing forward and treating the bad ones with little respect. C. L. J. Rees has greatly improved, though his style is still exaggerated. Christison has proved the steadiest and prettiest batsman on the side. Of the others, Alcock shaped well ; Hayward has an excellent style, and G. F. G. Rees has improved considerably.

The bowling was better than we anticipated. C. L. J. Rees was quite good for the first few overs, and his slow one was usually a very good one, until it lost its value by its frequency. Rogerson was steady, with a tendency to shortness, which on good wickets proved expensive. Spink developed greatly, and should be of value in the future. Christison proved useful on occasion, and J. B. Walton would have been if he had had more opportunity.

The fielding was very inconsistent, being sometimes good, more often very bad. The catching, especially, has been deplorable many times, though we also remember occasional excellence. C. L. J. Rees was good. Davis has captained the side with a good deal of success, for although his field has not been well placed, he has managed the bowling very judiciously.

The second eleven was not a good one. The batting lacked stiffness, the bowling length, and the fielding life and vim. Still the team managed to win three matches out of five. Bott, Clarke, and Kirkbride have been most successful with the bat. and Baldock has consistently taken wickets.

The Junior Dormitory matches have been revived under Mr. Peachey's management. They have created that keenness and enthusiasm which naturally produce good contests and excitement. The Crown were the best side, chiefly due to the bowling of Arnold and Longley. The former is the most promising junior discovered. Lissett played one very good innings for the Lion, and Armstrong was the mainstay of the Cross. The Fleur-de-Lys started very disastrously but improved greatly, Kelk bowling well.

Our thanks are due to the Masters who have spent so much time in coaching at the nets, and also to Mr. Peachey, who took such keen interest in the Juniors. The Club games have been fairly good, and the second club has, in particular, obviously benefitted by playing in the North Field, and should provide us good material for the teams next year.

CHARACTERS OF THE XI.

J. M. Davis* (Captain). A really good forcing bat, and wonderfully improved. Puts any amount of power behind his strokes and has an especially good off shot. Hits hard on the leg side, but too often attempts to put the straight ones round. Though rather slow is a sound and safe field. Has excellent notions of his duties as captain, and inspires others by his own keenness. Has used the bowling judiciously, but his placing of the field has lacked judgment.

J. B. M. Walton*. A good bat, very attractive when he gets going; is exceptionally good on the legside, but is inclined to step into his wickets too much; has a good straight forward stroke and should turn out an excellent bat. As a bowler he lacks confidence and is at times very erratic. His fielding varies considerably.

C. L. J. Rees*. A useful all-round man. His batting is too cramped, but he manages to get runs. Has a good off stroke, but spoils his batting by trying to be too stylish; is a very slow scorer, should try to force the pace more. A good fast bowler, with a slow leg break, which has been most effective on a number of occasions. An excellent field, but here again he is inclined to "gallery" work.

G. F. J. Rees*. A very fair bat, with plenty of confidence but can never be relied upon. Has played some very good innings and should improve. A very good wicket keeper.

A. J. Spink*. The most promising bowler we possess. He is always very cool and never loses his length. Breaks both ways with a good deal of success, and has a beautifully easy action. As a bat has been very disappointing; he lacks confidence, and will be useless until he gets out of the habit of playing back to every ball. A reliable field.

J. T. Christison.* A good steady and naturally stylish bat ; is a rather slow scorer, and should put more power into his strokes. When he is "set" can play prettily all round the wicket. A good change slow bowler. A keen and capable field.

S. Rogerson.* A good bowler but only does well when he is taking wickets ; soon loses his length under punishment ; breaks fairly well from the "off," but often gets very short. As a bat he is clumsy but tries hard, and should learn to hit loose balls. An inconsistent field, and should not give up running after a ball when he has missed fielding it.

A. G. Hayward.* A free and natural bat ; has an excellent style ; his strokes are pretty and natural, having plenty of power in them. Lacks confidence, and consequently has failed to come up to expectations. A poor field.

R. Alcock.* A good steady bat with plenty of confidence ; a slow scorer but can always pick out bad balls and punish them as they deserve. Plays a good straight bat and has been very useful this season. An excellent field.

†O. T. Walton. Would be an excellent bat with more judgment ; all his strokes are free and natural ; an especially excellent forward stroke, and is very good on the leg side. A good field. Ought to make a good bowler next season.

†C. L. M. Brown. Has not come up to expectations as a bat, due largely to nervousness. As it is he is very unreliable and can never pick out the right ball to hit. A good field but is inclined to be lazy.

†D. E. Sanderson. A very good steady bat ; his scoring is deplorably weak but should improve as he gets stronger. Has a natural style and can generally "stay there" until further orders. A disappointing field, being too slow to be of use.

CHARACTERS OF THE 2ND ELEVEN.

†W. E. G. Walker (Captain). Has not been a success as captain, as he does not use his bowlers with any skill. His batting has gradually deteriorated. Very fair on the "off" but hopelessly weak on the leg side, and is very slow. His fielding is very good and he always sets a good example. Is keen and painstaking and lack of success has been merely due to lack of judgment.

†H. Baldock. A good bowler, invariably keeping a good length. A poor bat; should stand up to the bowling. A fair field.

†K. C. F. Brown. A good wicket keeper; should learn to be quicker and cooler. As a bat he is very useful and can both hit well and also play steadily.

†H. H. W. Bean. A very useful bowler. Can hit hard naturally. Not a promising field.

†J. S. Bott. A good hard hitting bat with plenty of confidence. His inconsistency is due largely to his determination to get runs quickly. A smart field.

†G. Kirkbride. A promising bat but tries to be too stylish. Has a good "off" drive but is none too strong on the leg. Fair field. Should learn to be quicker.

†J. H. Clarke. A steady bat but very slow scorer; should put more vigour into his strokes. A good field.

G. F. Shute. A good medium pace bowler with length; should not try to bowl too fast. Promising bat. A smart field.

F. B. Shepherd. A promising bat with plenty of power in his strokes, and should be useful next season. Inclined to be clumsy in his fielding.

H. P. Wood. A promising all-round man. He lacks confidence in his batting and bowling. A good field and tries hard.

A. B. Browne. A fair bowler and should improve with practice and confidence. A fair field.

W. E. Muston. Has ideas of hitting; should be very useful as a bat and bowler next year. A confident and sure field.

R. C. Vernon. Appears to lack confidence and has fallen off greatly. A good field and tries hard.

O.T.C.

The Corps has been kept unusually busy lately with the big parades for Coronation Day, the Windsor Review, War Office inspection, Shooting, and with preparations for the Annual Camp.

On the morning of Coronation Day, June 22nd, the Corps and Band paraded in full uniform, and were drawn up in front of the flag, where they fired a Feu-de-joie, and gave three cheers for His Majesty King George V. At 10-30 p.m., after the bonfire and fireworks, the Corps performed a grand Tattoo with Torchlight procession in the South field. This was carried out with steadiness and precision, and at the end all the torches were simultaneously extinguished and "God Save the King" played by the band. Finally, the "Last Post" rang out, blown by all the buglers.

We are very grateful to S. Y. Holloway, O.C., an ex-N.C.O. of the Corps, for kindly presenting a miniature range rifle, B.S.A.

Forty-eight charger loading rifles have been received from Government to replace those of older pattern, and a further consignment is coming.

The Annual Camp will be held at Tidworth Pennings, Salisbury Plain. This year a picked contingent of fifty will attend the training. Worksop, with Derby School, Hymer's College, and King's School, Grantham, will form No. 2 Company of No. 1 Battalion under the command of Major G. C. Shakerley, D.S.O., King's Royal Rifles. Capt. H. G. McKenzie Rew, 3rd Batt. Essex Regiment, has been appointed to act as staff officer to this battalion.

ROYAL REVIEW IN WINDSOR PARK.

On July 3rd, the Corps took part in a grand review, by H.M. the King, of the Officers' Training Corps, in Windsor Park. Fifty N.C.O.'s and Cadets were selected, and proceeded with Lieuts. Buckley and Whitley, and Sergt. Instructor Ott, by special train on July 2nd. Arriving at Windsor at 3-30, they drew stores and food, and bivouacked near Queen Ann's Drive. On the 3rd, there was a parade at 8 a.m. for instruction and rehearsal, after which came dinner, and at one o'clock parade for the review. The contingents, numbering 375 Officers and some 18,000 Cadets, were drawn up in battalions, and punctually at 3 o'clock, the King, who wore the uniform of a Field-Marshal, arrived, attended by the Dukes of Connaught and Teck, and a glittering staff, took the salute and rode round and inspected the Cadets. The Queen, with the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary, followed the King in her carriage. Then, to the stirring strains of massed bands of the Brigade of Guards, under the bandmastership of Lieut. Rogan, the army of O.T.C. marched past His Majesty in column of companies. The cavalry and artillery contingents of the Senior Division led the van, Eton, with their colours, headed the Junior Division, and the Scotch Schools brought up the rear. Most of the Corps stepped past to the airs of their School songs. Worksop formed one company with Bournemouth, and were on the right of the line. The Junior Division then marched back to camp, while the Seniors, with the mounted arms, were drawn up in review order, gave the Royal Salute and three cheers for His Majesty. The parade ended at five o'clock. A large number of officers and civilians witnessed the review which was admirably planned and carried out in every detail. The town of Windsor was tastefully decorated. Some of the Corps returned home the same night, Boy Scouts taking over their tents. Worksop left at 5 a.m. and arrived home after an excellent journey, at 11 a.m., having had a most enjoyable and interesting experience of a military pageant.

THE ANNUAL INSPECTION.

The third annual inspection by the War Office was held on July 12th. Captain G. C. Merrick, D.S.O., R.A., General Staff, being the inspecting officer. There were 4 officers and 94 rank and file on parade. The company was formed up in line, with the band in rear, facing the pavilion, and received the inspecting officer with the "general salute." A close inspection of the ranks then took place. After the march past, the band left their instruments, and taking rifles which were piled near by, joined the ranks. Close order drill and manoeuvre followed. Each officer, the colour-sergeant and section commander was separately examined in drill and tactical exercises. It did not appear to be a very arduous inspection, but was quite stiff as far as it went. Everything that was asked for by the inspecting officer was accomplished to his satisfaction. This is saying a great deal, and it was due to a large extent to the painstaking and perseverance of the Sergeant-Instructor and the efficiency of the N.C.O.'s, who have certainly improved since the last inspection. Captain Merrick addressed the company and in the course of his remarks said that he was very pleased with all that he had seen. The "turn out" was good, the march past was well done, and the drill and movements that he had required had been correctly executed, while some were even better than he had expected. Altogether, he thought he could say that the standard was high. Captain Merrick also complimented the band on its numbers and efficiency, spoke a few words to the candidates for certificate "A" and inspected the rifle range, Morris Tube range, armoury, and various offices.

SHOOTING.

Shooting has hardly fulfilled its early promise this term. Inconsistency has been the worst feature, as some individual has always failed and so lowered the total score. We have won the majority of matches, but that is hardly due to any excellence of our own. Sergt. Fisher-Brown and L.-Corpl. Payne have proved the best match shots, and it is due to their efforts that fairly respectable match scores have been registered.

We hope to finish the musketry this term. The shooting has been improved by the charger-loading rifles, but there is evident lack of practice and interest, and it is rather depressing to have to carry through the course under such conditions. The miniature range course has been shot by the smaller cadets, so that every boy in the O.T.C. has become acquainted with the elements of shooting during the present term.

LIBRARY NOTES.

We wish to thank the Headmaster, the Chaplain, Messrs. Whitley and Smith, for kindly presenting papers to the Library during the term. The following papers were to be found on the tables this term. Magazines: Strand, Pearson's, Windsor, London, Royal, Munsey. Weekly: Sketch, London Illustrated News, Sporting and Dramatic, Bystander, Punch, Sphere, Hobbies, Amateur Photographer.

Financially the Library is in a flourishing condition. Thanks to the boys' subscriptions and the generosity of the Masters we have been able to buy so many papers without touching the terminal grant, that the latter is now almost entirely devoted to the buying of books.

Statement of Accounts, Lent Term. Receipts: Balance from Xmas Term, £5 11s. 1½d.; Boys' subscriptions, £3 1s. 6d.; Grant from School, £5 10s. 6d.; Total, £14 3s. 1½d. Expenses: £6 19s. 6d. Balance in hand, £7 3s. 7d.

Mr. J. V. Cowgill has presented "Grote's History of Greece" (8 vols.) to the School Library.

O.C. NEWS.

T. B. Lund is at the Horticultural Experimental Station, Jordan Harbour, Ontario, Canada.

W. A. Surtees has taken his degree at Durham University.

• J. Tasker has been assisting the Yorkshire County 2nd XI. with some success.

We have had the pleasure of visits from S. E. W. Rees, A. F. Greeves, and R. Buckley this term.

S. E. W. Rees brought over a team largely composed of O.C.'s to play the School on July 22nd. The side included S. Y. Holloway, W. A. Surtees, J. Whittaker, J. Godley, R. Buckley, A. F. Greeves, P. Wells, J. Blackstone.

S. Curtis goes into residence at S. Catherine's College, Cambridge, next term. F. L. A. Pickett goes up to Peterhouse College, Cambridge.

S. Y. Holloway has presented the O.T.C. with a Miniature Rifle, B.S.A. pattern, graduated backsight and blade foresight. It is a very pleasant souvenir of the success of the Shooting Eight under his captaincy last year.

There is still required a fairly large sum of money for the Charles Rew Memorial Window. We have had offers of second subscriptions from O.C.'s who have already subscribed, but we feel sure that there are many O.C.'s who would not care to miss inclusion in such a fund.

ANNALS.

The following have received their First Eleven Cricket colours: J. T. Christison, S. Rogerson. Second Eleven: A. G. Hayward, O. T. Walton, C. L. M. Brown, D. E. Sanderson, R. Alcock, H. Baldock.

F. O. Stuart has received his Gymn. Colours.

The swimming match with Sheffield has unfortunately had to be scratched.

The school was represented at the opening of Lancing Chapel on Tuesday, July 8th, by the Headmaster, the Chaplain, the Captain of School, the Prefect of Chapel, and the Senior Prefect.

It is expected that the whole of the school buildings will possess a complete installation of electric lighting before the end of the coming holidays. This has been rendered possible by the munificence of Baron Mountgarret of Nidd.

The draws for water-polo resulted as follows: Crown v. Fleur-de-Lys, Cross v. Lion. The Cross and Crown have been left in for the final round.

We note the election of J. W. F. Davis to be Captain of Football.

We have had the pleasure of a visit from Rev. D. Victor this term.

On Coronation Day one of our visitors was the Rev. N. P. Williams, Fellow and Chaplain of Exeter College, Oxford.

The following boys were confirmed in the School Chapel, on July 12th, by Bishop Hamilton Baynes : Philip Brookes, William Francis Trevor Dixon, Ronald Victor Hall, Stanley Price, John Sparling Seed, John Stephenson, Edward Stephenson, Wilfrid Darley Wynne.

First Eleven Cricket Colours have been awarded to R. Alcock, and Second Eleven Colours to W. E. G. Walker, H. H. W. Bean, K. C. F. Brown, G. Kirkbride, J. H. F. Clarke, J. S. Bott.

The First Dormitory Gymnastic Competition took place on Wednesday evening, July 26th. The teams were as follows : Fleur-de-lys (winners), Rees max, Greeves ; Crown (2), Stewart, Wood major ; Cross (3), Shute, Rogers ; Lion (4), Bott, Dawson. Capt. Rew and Sergt.-Instructor Ott were judges.

W. A. Silvester has been awarded a Nottinghamshire County Council Scholarship.

The Editor acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following School Magazines : The Peterite, The Alleynian, The Bloxhamist, The Ellesmerian, The Cantuarian, The Olavian, The Elizabethan, Also received : The S.S.M. Quarterly Paper.

All MSS. for insertion should be written on one side of the paper only, and sent to the Editor, A. M. Thompson.

The Subscription to the Cuthbertian (3/6 a year, or 10/6 for three years) should be sent to E. Buckley, Esq., Workshop College, Notts., to whom also any change in a subscriber's address should be notified.
