Entrance Examination, Monday, September 13.

Momentous news appeared in the papers at the beginning of the month. As a result of the report of the Board of Education's Inspectors it has been decided that the School is to be moved. Where to? Rumour says somewhere on the south side of Manchester. When? Well, it is bound to take some time. At any rate, within a few years. Long Millgate, which for over four centuries has been the home of the Manchester Grammar School, will be abandoned. Noise, atmosphere, and lack of playing space have at last outweighed the ease with which it can be reached from all sides. A score of questions rise to the mind as to the future. Will the dislocation, supposing the move is southwards, deprive the School of the vigorous northern element? Will nearer and larger playing fields make the School as renowned in games as it has been in work? Will Chetham's Hospital feel lonely? Will the ghost of Hugh Oldham be seen at the removal passing in majesty to the new site? And what about the genius loci?—if there is one, which some of us rather doubt. Probably when the time comes no very violent severance of traditions will be felt: sentiment does not adhere very closely to our present walls and pavements.

We have received the following magazines:—University College Magazine, Whalley Range High School Magazine, Ton-bridgian, Harrovian, Serpent, Keighlian, Liverpool Institute Magazine.

Obituary.

Right Rev. Dr. DIGGLE, Bishop of Carlisle.

Born in 1847, Dr. Diggle attended the Grammar School until 1868, when he gained a mathematical post-mastership at Merton College, Oxford, in 1866. Four years later he obtained a first-class in Law and History and took his B.A. In 1871 he was ordained to the curacy of St. Margaret's, Whalley Range. In 1882 he was appointed rural dean to the deanery of Childwell, hon. canon of Liverpool in 1887, and president of the Liverpool Council of Education in 1891, after which he was successively Canon of Carlisle, vicar of St. Martin's, Birmingham, and lastly was appointed to the bishopric of Carlisle in 1905. He will always be remembered by those who knew him, says a correspondent to the Manchester Guardian, as a striking and vivid personality, and as one capable of arousing and retaining the love and loyalty of many friends.

Founders' Day Service.

A service to commemorate the 405th anniversary of the founding of the School was held in the Cathedral on May 20th. The sermon was preached by Dean McCormick, the new Dean of Manchester. The Dean took as his text "I came not to be ministered unto, but to minister." He was sure that the School would continue to send out into the world men who would live every whit as worthily as their forefathers, and continue the noble traditions of many generations. The world, the Dean said, at the present day was alive with new problems and new movements of which the men of a generation ago knew nothing. On all sides there was a demand for personal expression and a fuller life. Throughout the length and breadth of the land novelists were preaching that personal expression took precedence even of the moral life. No man in a Christian pulpit, the Dean declared, could say that God did not intend Man to have a happy life, for the Son of Man came eating and drinking with publicans and sinners; but the preaching of present-day novelists was the vilest blasphemy, and would, if carried into effect, quickly bring modern civilisation to ruin. That was one theory suggested wherewith to meet the problems of the day, but the alternative to coarse hedonism of this sort lay in that service to God and Man which had its fountain-head in Jesus Christ. "I serve," the Dean declared, should be the motto of all who were going out into the world, and on whose efforts the character of modern civilisation depended. All who went forth to face the problems of the present-day with "I serve" as their pilot-star would do an inestimable service to their fellow-beings, a service which would richly reward them in the doing.

Some Impressions of Three Years at M.G.S.

To one who has had the privilege of going away to a boarding school, the deficiencies of a day school are the more apparent, and perhaps the most unsatisfactory organisation at the Grammar School is that of games. Of approximately twelve hundred boys in the school, only about two hundred play football regularly throughout the season. What regular exercise do the remaining thousand take? They surely do not claim that homework occupies the whole week-end!

Games, and in this I include swimming, should be made as important a part of the school work as classics or mathematics. Every Form should be compelled to play at least one afternoon in the week, and this could be arranged without much difficulty. As regards swimming, there is a hundred guinea trophy offered every two years to the school which holds the best swimming records, and in these, the percentage of boys able to swim, the number who pass the various tests of the Royal Life Saving Society, and the record of life saved by past and present scholars are taken into account. The first time the trophy was offered, my old school won it, and since then it has ranked second only to the Leeds Training College. The following figures will give some idea of the standard required. By the end of the summer term we rarely had a single boy (out of 200) who was unable to swim, and an average of over 70 per cent. passed life-saving exams. We had usually a dozen candidates for the Award of Merit. Surely this is a record of which to be proud!

This lack of esprit de corps has been very marked in school activities other than those of games. The school societies are, in most cases, very poorly supported. The most flourishing is the Junior Debating Society; perhaps the attraction is that boys can express their sentiments with regard to the staff and others without fear of censorship, and also that their names will appear in print in Uhula. With this exception, however, all the societies which are open to the whole school are in a deplorable state of inactivity. A cycling club has been started, but for the first run not half-a-dozen names were given in!

This slackness is doubtless caused by the reaction which has set in among all classes of people in the country, but it is time that we settled down now to the work of reconstruction. In one, and only one, way has the school taken a real lead, namely, in the weekly collections for the European Relief Fund. Perhaps this is the turning point; we sincerely hope so.

As regards the educational side of the school life, it would be unwise to say very much. Suffice it to say, I do think that European History should be taught to all the Sixth Forms. Even a general knowledge of this subject would enable us more clearly to understand the important international problems of to-day. The subject is extremely interesting, and should come as a welcome change to those who have, or rather, are supposed to have, read the whole of English History two or three times.

Lastly, could not something be done with regard to the disorderly crowds in the corridors at the end of every hour? A visitor seeing boys straggling along, hands in pockets, goes away with the impression that smartness is not one of the strong points in the education of Grammar School boys. The most satisfactory solution would be for the boys to stay in their classrooms and the masters to come to them, except, of course, when a form has to go to the laboratory or the gymnasium.

In conclusion, may I answer a question which is continually being put to me, namely: "Do you prefer a day school or a boarding school?" The answer is that both have their advantages, and though I shall leave the Grammar School with many happy memories, a boarding school is decidedly preferable.

"At Ypres with Best-Dunkley."

By Thomas Hope Floyd (John Lane, 6s.).

Mr. Thomas Hope Floyd is one of the many O.M.'s who enlisted as a private at the outbreak of war. He served in this capacity through the Battle of the Somme, was then given a commission, and took up his duties as an officer just in time for the Battle of Messines, June, 1917. His book is a very straightforward and candid account of life in France from the point of view of the Infantry subaltern, and as such will appeal strongly to a great many ex-officers, who will find, allowing for differences of place, a vivid description of their own experiences during the Western campaign.

The most outstanding feature of the book, perhaps, is Mr. Floyd's frank and outspoken criticism of everything and everybody. He belonged to the famous 55th Division, consisting of Lancashire Territorials (his own Battalion was the 2/5 Lancashire Fusiliers), which, by its heroic defence of Givenchy in April, 1918, saved an absolute break-through on the part of the Germans, and frequent mention is made of Major-General Jewdwine, who commanded the Division, and of Brigadier-General Stockwell, in command of the 164th Brigade. General Stockwell was one of the youngest senior officers in the Army, and he and the Divisional Commander quite obviously won Mr. Floyd's heart. Not so his Colonel. The happiness of the subaltern depended to a very large extent on the character of the Commanding Officer; they saw far more of each other than under ordinary peace-time conditions, and boundless was the affection which a kind and considerate Colonel could evoke among his subordinates. Colonel Best-Dunkley was apparently unfortunate in this respect. A sincere tribute is paid to his great qualities as a soldier, but it is evident that his junior officers, at any rate, stood in mortal fear of his tongue and temper, and that they were ill-at-ease whenever they met him. Whatever personal shortcomings the Colonel possessed, however, were amply atoned for by his heroic work during the ghastly Battle of Ypres, July 31st, 1917, and one feels, with Mr. Floyd, deep regret that the very gallant officer did not live long enough to know that he had been awarded the Victoria Cross.

Mr. Floyd is to be congratulated on having drawn a graphic, and at the same time unpretentious picture of the kind of life which was so patiently endured by men, a large proportion of whom can never have been away from ordinary civilisation before.

North Manchester School Memorial.

On Thursday, May 13th, the Memorial to the Masters and Old Boys of North Manchester School who made the Great Sacrifice, was unveiled by Mrs. Dennis. During the simple yet impressive ceremony, references were made by Mr. and Mrs. Dennis and the Honorary Secretary of the Memorial Committee to their happy recollections of those whose names were honoured. Owing to the comparatively recent foundation of the School the majority of the old boys who served were intimately known to each other, and the Memorial might almost be said to mark the gaps in a "family circle."

Lieut.-Col. Westmacott accepted the Memorial from the Old Boys on behalf of the School Governors, and Mr. Paton, speaking subsequently, reminded those present that the School, which, as Mr. Dennis had said, had hitherto looked with pride to the traditions of the Grammar School, had now a fine tradition of its own which would spur on its members to greater efforts.

The design of the oak panel was originated by Mr. T. H. Pickstone, an old boy of the School, and was adapted and executed with great skill by Mr. Simpson, of Kendal. The craftsman's own description of it is as follows:—"It is a simple panel with the names of the old boys who have fallen in incised letters. This is surrounded by a frame richly carved with oak leaves and acorns. At the top corners and in the centre of the bottom rail are shields, each bearing three regimental badges, and representative of the regiments of the fallen. The frame is carved at the top to allow of the prominent display of the school arms, which add a dignity to the whole."

In addition, photographs of each of the twenty-one Masters and old boys were obtained, and uniform copies were mounted in a simple yet dignified frame of oak, made and given to the School by Mr. Hardy Jackson, another old boy.

Natural History and Museum Notes.

Over a hundred of the birds in the Bulkeley Allen collection (now in the School buildings) were formerly in the collection of the late Mr. Doeg, of Withington. Mrs. Doeg, his widow, has recently sent to the School museum nearly a hundred seabirds' eggs, and has also presented a wild cat and a pine marten. The last two are rare specimens which we have long wanted to complete our collection of British mammals.

Lieut. Harry Cox, of Weston-super-Mare, has presented a fine collection of shells, gathered by the late Mr. Thomas Gardner, of that town. Lieut. W. H. Grundy, B.A., well known to many Grammar School boys, has sent a collection of stamps from Switzerland. Dr. Wilmore is leaving us some interesting geological specimens, Mr. I. G. Milne has sent us a collection of Greek coins, and Mr. Herbert Massey, of Burnage, has added to our collection of birds' eggs.

We have received interesting contributions to the museum from Baron, of MT.b; Chadwick, of 4a; Hankey, of iv.γ, Scott and Clarke, of MR; Lee, Ball, and Burnett, of ii.β; Dower, of Sc.3; Eyden, of Sh.A; Willis, of P.3; and Priestley and Rowbotham, of P.1.

A number of boys have made successful water colour drawings of the birds in the upper corridor, and Chadwick, of 4a, has also taken photographs of them and of birds' nests in course of construction. A prize offered by Scout Commissioner Hancock to boys of the Llandulas Camp for the best collection of flowers led to an interesting competition, a nice collection being made by Fucks, of Math. 6; boys of this camp were also fortunate enough to find the nest of the redstart and the tree creeper, and the young of the ringed plover. Buzzards are reported by several of the Lake District campers, and one observer was fortunate enough to find the eyrie of a pair of peregrine falcons and to watch the young falcons in their home.

Terminal Oxford Letter.

Dear Ulula,

Though the writer is painfully aware that he is only wasting his own time and your space, he yet hopes that you will give heed to his account of the doings, misdoings, and undoings of your former fledglings now roosting at Oxford. Of the University in general one can only say that it is going to the dogs as fast as ever, and will soon be really up-to-date. The most recent "reform," reducing women students to equality of status with mere men, achieved the melancholy distinction of being almost the first movement of its kind not mainly promoted by the Hon. Vice-President of the Oxford O.M. Society—Mr. Ernest Barker, M.A. As for the rest of us, we have done nothing in particular, and might have done it worse. We number nearly eighty, distributed amongst all the colleges save two, and coagulated thickly in certain of the more favoured, notably New College, Balliol, B.N.C., and C.C.C. We left your apron-strings at various dates between 1905 and 1919; and have tried to atone for our slackness elsewhere by feverish activity in connection with the "Ooms" which has this term held six meetings, of various sorts and degrees of success. Golding and Hignett contributed literary papers to the programme as ballast, Wormald arranged a mock trial, Harrison got up a musical evening, and two general meetings were also sustained. Private business on the whole was lethargic, and there was no dinner this term. But as incontestable evidence of its vitality the society has adopted a Distinctive Tie, designed by the retiring president and now being ushered into the world by the practised hands of the President-elect.

In games and on the river fewer O.M.'s have distinguished themselves than was the case last year, when even rowing was mitigated by a spirit of cheerful amateurism. Most University societies have done pretty well in spite of the handicap of not possessing a Mancunian official. The French Club, however, is fortunate in having Riding as its president. His name also appears in our list of academic successes, which on the whole is rather cheering. It can safely be left to speak for itself, and for us, too. But a word may be profitably wasted on two informal literary triumphs—Floyd's monograph on the work of the 25 Lancashire Fusiliers on the opening day of the third battle of Ypres; and the first number of the Oxford and Cambridge Miscellany. In this, the latest fruit of the creative instinct of our senior ex-president, G. H. Baxter, we take peculiar interest, for 50 per cent. of the editors, and approximately 14.81 per cent. of the contributors, are O.M.'s. Further comment, which also might clash with the authoritative reviews which no doubt will appear elsewhere in your pages, are superfluous. It should be mentioned that Baxter has been co-founder and treasurer of the O.U. New Tory Association, which also speaks for itself.

With apologies for not having remembered or invented anything more worth while telling or hearing, and hoping you are quite fit,

We remain,

Yours affectionately,

"THE OOMS," pp. Sto.

Easedale Camp.

Easedale campers will never forget their vigorous holiday this last Whitsuntide. Our party of 25 left Exchange on May 21st, full of latent energy, which could not even be worked off by a good walk to Grasmere. Bubbling over with good spirits, we pitched our tents with improvised poles, and in the absence of the Bell (tent) our leader erected his mansion and slept for the night Red Indian fashion. In spite of several showers we "strolled" round the neighbouring hills, climbing Helvellyn and Striding Edge with the greatest of ease, and Fairfield and the Langdales with rather more difficulty.

Two parties of eight on different days trekked over to Keswick, changing abode with their neighbours of that place; many of these passed through the finest of valleys—Borrowdale,—whose scenery they remember just as perfectly as the wildness and bleakness of the Langdale round.

One day we visited the remains of an old Roman Camp at Ambleside, made interesting to us by Mr. Bruton's diagram and notes. A game christened "Hockey" by one of our own party, held the field, knocking out football and many players. The excellent bathing in Dead Man's Pool will live in our memories.

We have enjoyed ourselves so much and have been so deeply impressed with the beauty of the lakes that many of us have vowed to show our people and friends that glorious country. We give our very best thanks to Mr. Cowperthwaite for lending us such an admirable site, and to Mr. Heathcote who has led us so cheerfully and splendidly.

Llandulas Camp.

During the Whitsuntide holidays a camp was held by Troop 3 at Llandulas. The camp site was nearly ideal. It commanded a view of the sea and magnificent cliffs; it was surrounded by trees, and was not many yards from the little river Dulas. The weather was good. Two violent thunderstorms found the canvas of the tents so stout that rain had to find entrance under the brailing. This was the only discomfort experienced. Llandulas will be remembered chiefly as a place of sunshine and blue skies. Sea-bathing, climbing, podex, cricket, football, a visit to Conway, first-class journeys, and, owing to the hospitality of kind friends at Llandulas, a "garden party" and a moonlight garden fête, sports' day, when visitors came and offered prizes,—the half cannot be told.

The most satisfactory feature of the camp was that every boy worked well, played well, and kept well. One secret of our friendly reception at Llandulas was the presence of District Commissioner Hancock there. His visits to the camp, his bird talks to some of the boys, his address at the Scouts' Own—all helped, and we wish to say a word of thanks. To other friends, especially to Dr. Bruton, who helped to open our eyes before we left Manchester, and to those who shared the responsibility of the camp, A.S.M. Southern, A.S.M. Johnson, the P.L.'s, and Seconds, we say "Diolch yn fawr iawn y chwi." We learnt this at Llandulas.

Lake Side Camp, Windermere.

During the war for various reasons our scouts were compelled to acquire camping sites within easy reach, and enjoyable camps have been held at Starkie and Kettleshulme, but with the restoration of travelling facilities this year Troop 4 were able to camp farther afield. Various places were suggested and considered, and from reports of the possibilities of Lake Side as a camping centre the C.O.H. were unanimous in deciding in its favour.

Our merry party of twenty-seven set out from Exchange Station by the 11-0 a.m. train, and the journey was rendered more comfortable by the fact that we were able to obtain a through carriage. As far as Preston the route lies for the greater part through typical S.E. Lancashire country, which had no engrossing interest for us, but on approaching the northern limits of Lancashire a feeling of eagerness was experienced when one caught glimpses of the sea, and spirits rose higher and higher as we passed through Arnsdale, Silverdale, and Grange, with the sea on the one hand and mountain scenery on the other, and many of us who were making the journey for the first time could hardly realise we were still in Lancashire.

Our destination was Fell Foot, the beautiful estate kindly placed at our disposal by Mr. Hedley. Fell Foot is an ideal camping ground, having an abundance of wood and being actually on the edge of the lake. The boat buildings provide excellent accommodation in case of bad weather, and although fortunately we hadn't to use them on that account we found them of great use as store-houses and for indoor work; and the landing piers cut off a portion of the lake which is perfectly safe for bathing.

Windermere, as we expected, was an ideal spot for birds, which enjoyed there protection and seclusion. Many new birds were seen, e.g., heron and sandpiper, while on the way home a redshank was seen on the sands near Grange, and gulls, the three species of wagtails, pied, yellow and grey; curlew, willow wrens and other smaller birds were exceedingly common. Goldcrests and various kinds of titmice nested in the immediate vicinity of the camp, and not far distant, round Town Head House, the number of nests was surprising. Here were wagtails, yellow and pied; robins, thrushes, blackbirds, rooks, wrens, hedge-sparrows, starlings, chaffinches, and swallows, which all made their nests near the house. But the strangest place of all was the nest of a tree-creeper situated in the barrel of a pump. This goes to prove that the value of this camp, to the naturalist at least, has hardly yet been surpassed.

Many and varied were the excursions during the week, and notable was the ascent of Gomer's Howe, the highest point in that district; but probably the trips on the lake were the most enjoyable.

The thanks of all are due to Mr. Hedley, Colonel Turner, Commissioners Sladen and Henderson, Major Dickson, Mrs. Goulding, Canon Townley, Rev. T. Price, and the Lake Side Station-master, for the interest they took and the assistance they willingly gave to make our holiday at Fell Foot one of the most enjoyable camps we have had.

SCHOOL v. COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY.

Played at the Cliff, Saturday, June 5th. The match was drawn. The School bowling was considerably weakened by the absence of Cornofsky, particularly so as the wicket was hard and fast. Windsor bowled splendidly. Our opponents' huge score was due directly to our old friend, T. Scott, who hit brilliantly all round the wicket, his driving, particularly on the off-side, being the hardest two have seen for a long time. School batted pluckily and well, and stumps were drawn with our score at 123 (for eight wickets). Scores :—

SCHOOL v. DIDSBURY C.C. SECOND ELEVEN.

Played at the Cliff, July 3rd. School won by 106 runs and two wickets. School won the toss and batted first on a wicket which was still wet from the recent rain. The Didsbury bowling presented no difficulties and runs came easily. Windsor's century, the result of brilliant hitting on all sides of the wicket, was the chief feature of the match. He made the ball travel at a great pace, even when playing back, over the slow outfield. Our opponents were dismissed for 96. Cornofsky was very skilful in bowling the ball which forced the batsmen to play it into the hands of short-leg. Scores :—

O.T.C. Field Day.

A joint O.T.C. Field Day, under the direction of Headquarters, East Lancashire Territorial Division, took place in the neighbourhood of Holcombe Brook on Wednesday, June 23rd, the contingents from Bury, Leeds and Lancaster Grammar Schools, Liverpool Institute, and the Manchester Grammar School taking part and forming a battalion under the command of Brig.-Gen. J. Hornby, C.M.G., D.S.O., commanding the Lancashire Fusiliers Brigade.

The following is a brief outline of the scheme for the operations: The O.T.C. battalion forming part of a left flank guard to a force advancing N. along the Bury-Edenfield-Rawtenstall and the Rochdale-Bacup roads reached Holcombe Brook at 1100 hours on June 23rd, and is detailed to seize the high ground Bull Hill—Musden Head Moor before the remainder of the flank guard can advance further. M.G.S. and Bury G.S. contingents formed "A" company, Liverpool Institute "B" company, Leeds G.S. "C" company, with Lancaster Grammar School as "D" company to act as reserves.

On arriving by train at Holcombe Brook Station we were somewhat alarmed, yet not a little flattered, to see what, at first sight, appeared to be the whole general staff awaiting us outside the station. After a short time, however, we found that, although the general staff was not present in toto, we were not to suffer from lack of adequate supervision and instruction, for, in addition to the staff officer attached to each company to play the dual rôle of umpire and instructor, there was also a number of staff officers who had a roving commission, and who kept in touch with the various companies during the operations. Major-Gen. T. H. Shoubridge, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., commanding the East Lancashire Territorial Division, was also present acting as chief umpire.

The company commanders went on in advance by motor to reconnoitre the position, and the battalion followed along the Bolton Road until it reached the point from which the advance was to begin. Here a halt was called, and the umpires took this opportunity of giving some useful hints on the attack. When the frontage and objectives of the three attacking companies had been settled by the company commanders and communicated to the subordinate commands, scouts were sent out from each company, and shortly afterwards the battalion advanced in "blob" formation, being under artillery fire from the enemy. On emerging into open ground the attacking companies opened out over the front and advanced with the sections in "worm" formation. This formation was maintained until we came under effective rifle fire, when the order was given to extend. The advance continued in section rushes until it was held up by a devastating rifle and machine gun fire from the enemy, who had retired to a strong position a few hundred yards north of the range warden's house. After the firing line had been reinforced by the supports, a further advance was made, but only for a short distance as "A" company had to withstand a strong counter-attack on its left, and the final attack on the enemy's position had to be delayed until the reserves had come up to our assistance. When the "cease fire" sounded the enemy disappeared and we were able to re-organise our depleted forces and return to the warden's house for lunch. During the whole course of the operations we received very helpful coaching from the umpires.

After lunch Major-General Shoubridge gave a very instructive talk to the whole battalion, pointing out the mistakes which had been made and giving many useful hints to both officers and men. His reference to certain scouts—"very brave fellows"—who won the V.C. several times "for their mothers or sisters" made us wonder if he had the scouts of "A" company in mind; they certainly seemed to bear charmed lives. His witty remarks and cheerful, encouraging manner met with an enthusiastic reception, and he was accorded three very hearty cheers when he stood down. On the way back to Holcombe Brook Station Gen. Shoubridge took the "march past."

The general result of the field day was a feeling, not of satisfaction with what we had done, but rather one of gratification from the fact that we had learnt so much from it, thanks to the very able direction and assistance of the staff officers who spared no pains to make the operations as interesting and instructive as possible.

O.T.C. Notes.

The annual inspection was held at Heaton Park on Saturday, June 26th. After the march past the inspecting officer, Major Currie, saw some close order drill and an attack under the command of the N.C.O.'s, and was very pleased with the work done. His report is not yet to hand, but we wish to place on record that he gave a special word of praise to our senior N.C.O., Sergt. Wild, for the efficient way in which he did his work.

O.M. SHOOTING CUP.—1, L/Corpl. Mayor; 2, Sergt. Wild; 3, Corpl. Wilcock.

O.M. EFFICIENCY CUP, awarded by the votes of the members of the O.T.C.—1, Corpl. Wilcock; 2, Corpl. Neill; 3, Corpl. Garner.

Swimming Sports.

This year our Swimming Sports were again held in the Victoria Baths, High Street. The programme had been changed a little from that of former years by the addition of a two lengths Back and Breast Race under 15, and of an Under 15 Obstacle Race, and of a diving competition, with the result that the entries totalled 40 more than last year. The keenness of both individual swimmers and of forms was very marked this year, and great excitement was shown in every race.

The visit of Mr. W. Henry, founder and life secretary of the Amateur Life-Saving Association, and Vice-President of the Amateur Diving Association, and holder of other honours too numerous to mention, was highly appreciated. Besides judging our Diving Competition, he gave us, in spite of the handicap of an injured toe, an exhibition of ornamental swimming which would be difficult to equal. We are very grateful to him for his kindness, and also to Mr. Broom not only for bringing him to us, but for his many services to the School swimming.

The High Master, in his speech, laid great stress on the importance of a knowledge of life-saving, and paid Mr. Bally a well-merited tribute for the unflinching energy and ability which he has shown as organiser of the Swimming Sports and of the School swimming in general.

The Mayor of Salford distributed the prizes, and gave us a fitting speech for the occasion. The heartiness of our cheers showed our appreciation of his kindness in visiting us. We give the results with a few words of criticism:

HALF-MILE (NOMINAL) RACE, OPEN.—Swum, by the kindness of the Park authorities, in Heaton Park Lake, on June 19th. The distance is really between seven and eight hundred yards. W. T. Ellis (Sc.V.) was again the winner, in 9m. 57s., beating his last record of 10m. 54s. S. J. Abensur (MT.b) was second, and J. E. Waterfield (Math.V.) third. Thirty-six started, and 34 were within the time-limit of 18 minutes; the other two finished the distance.

QUARTER-MILE, UNDER 15.—Decided on the same day. Winner, G. H. Sharples (4b); 2nd, A. Waterfield (5b). Time, 6m. 17s. (Record, A. Waterfield, 6m. 13s. in 1919). These two races were decided beforehand.

TWO LENGTHS (OPEN) (1 Length=25 yards).—1, L. Thompson (Sc.VI.) and J. E. Waterfield (Math.VI.), equal; 3rd, S. J. Abensur (MT.b). The time, 31s., was very slow. Thompson has done 29s. and better regularly. (Record, A. S. Love, 29s., in 1912).

TWO LENGTHS, UNDER 15.—1, C. H. Vernon (R.β); 2, T. R. Colley (3b). Time, 36 2-5s.

TWO LENGTHS, UNDER 14.—1, G. E. Marsden (Sh.c); 2, T. Bryce (Prep.1). Time, 42 2-5s. (Record, D. R. Riddell, 33s., in 1915).

TWO LENGTHS, UNDER 13.—1, T. Bryce (Prep.1); 2, E. Tawil (Prep.3). Time, 45s. Bryce is a promising young swimmer with a natural leg-roll.

SIX LENGTHS, OPEN.—1, W. T. Ellis (Sc.V.); J. E. Waterfield (Math.VI.) and S. J. Abensur (MT.b) tied for second place. Ellis swam splendidly with great power, and won with the greatest ease by half a length. He beat the previous school record of 2m. 1s. made by H. Holland in 1915 by seven seconds. Though not a particularly neat swimmer he swims with more power than any swimmer we have had at the School. Time, 1m. 54s.

FOUR LENGTHS, UNDER 16.—1, H. Waterfield (5a); 2, J. Hughes (3a); 3, F. E. Johnson (R.β). H. Waterfield has a beautiful style, very easy, but there is not much power behind it as yet. Time, 1m. 25s. (Record, L. H. Riddell, 1m. 17s., in 1915).

TWO LENGTHS CARRYING (OBSTACLE) RACE, OPEN.—1, J. E. Waterfield (Math.VI.); 2, W. T. Ellis (Sc.V.).

TWO LENGTHS OBSTACLE RACE, UNDER 15.—1, A. Waterfield (5b); 2, R. V. Baker (iii.a).

TWO LENGTHS BACK AND BREAST, OPEN.—1, J. E. Waterfield (Math.VI.); 2, E. T. Fields (Sc.Tr.). Time, 39 3-5s. Waterfield has great natural floating power, and his breast stroke is rhythmic, getting the greatest results with least waste of strength. (Record, Carson, 38s., in 1912).

TWO LENGTHS BACK AND BREAST, UNDER 15.—1, R. V. Baker (iii.a); 2, Blades (iv.β). Time, 42s.

DIVING, OPEN.—1, E. T. Fielden (Sc.Tr.); 2, G. H. Sharples (4b); 3, R. V. Baker (iii.a).

TWO LENGTHS LIFE-SAVING RACE, OPEN (by first and fourth methods of rescue).—1, W. T. Ellis (Sc.V.); 2, J. E. Waterfield (Math.VI.).

SWIMMING TEAM RESULTS.

May 6th, at New Islington Baths, we defeated the Ancoat Lads' Club by 30 yards. Team: Waterfield (J. E.), Ellis, Abensur, Thompson. Abensur did not turn up, but fortunately we met O. Senior, an old boy, who kindly swam for us. Each man swam two lengths (60 yards). Time 2m. 20s. Our junior team, consisting of Hughes, Waterfield (A.), Baker, Waterfield (H.), and Fielden, won by five yards.

May 11th, at Withington Baths, against the Withington S.C., we were beaten by two yards. Each side swam one breast stroke and five free style. Team: Corney, Waterfield (J. E.), Fielden, Abensur, Ellis, Thompson. Time, 3m. 36s., each swimming 50 yards. Time, 3m. 36s., compares badly with that against the A.L.C. Each man swam three or four seconds worse than his average fifty yards time.

May 13th, at Victoria Baths, we defeated Dalton Hall very easily. Team: Fielden, Abensur, Ellis, Waterfield (J. E.), Thompson.

May 14th, at Osborne Street Baths, our "Under 15" team were severely defeated by the H.O.L.C. Juniors. Team: Bryce, Waterfield (A.), Hughes, Baker, Waterfield (H.). Each man swam 80 yards.

May 17th, in the School Baths, an inter-side race took place which the Moderns won by two yards. Classical and Mathematical were second, and Science third.

June 10th, at Altrincham Baths, our 2nd team defeated Altrincham County High School by a length. Team: Vernon, MacMahon, Waterfield (H.), Kirsop, Clegg, Waterfield (A.). Fifty yards each man.

June 17th, at Mayfield Baths, the Hulme Grammar School and ourselves challenged the Central High School for the Urwick Cup which they won from us last year. The teams were four a side, each swimming 45 yards. After a keenly-fought race we finished 3rd, with Hulme G.S. 2nd, and the Central High School winners for a second time. There were not two feet between the three. The time, 95 secs., was the fastest in the history of the competition. Team: Ellis, Abensur, Waterfield (J. E.), Thompson.

June 22nd, at Withington Baths, we swam a return match with the Withington S.C. We managed to defeat them by eight yards, reversing the previous defeat. H. Waterfield obtained a substantial lead for us in the 100 yards breast stroke. His time, 90 secs., was remarkably good for a boy of fifteen. The crawl swimmers managed to retain this lead, Thompson swimming very well. Team: H. Waterfield, Ellis, Hyman, Peacock, Abensur, Waterfield (J. E.), Thompson. The same night our "Under 15" team were beaten by the W.S.C. Juniors by three yards. Team: Verson, Hughes, Colley, Kirsop, Baker.

June 28th, at Osborne Street, the H.O.L.C. beat us by a yard after a close race. Team: Ellis, Corney, Peacock, Waterfield (J. E.), Thompson. Each man swam 66 yards. The H.O.L.C. second team beat our second team by the same distance. Team: MacMahon, Taylor, Dick, Kirsop, Vernon, Waterfield (H.).

June 30th, at the Y.M.C.A. Baths, the team achieved its best performance this season in swimming a strong Y.M.C.A. side to within two yards. The whole team swam excellently. Team: Ellis, Peacock, Abensur, Waterfield (J. E.), Thompson. Each man swam 40 yards.

June 30th, at Osborne Street Baths, our "Under 15" team were defeated by the Abbott Street Schools. Team: Waterfield (A.) (breast), Clegg, Colley, Baker, Hughes, Fielden; 66 yards each man.
