EDITORIAL.

AFTER one or two rather fruitless efforts, in which we wasted much paper and splashed much ink, we have determined that this shall be our last effort. The difficulty in the Editorial is invariably to make a beginning; we had almost become plagiarists in our desperation, but now we may proceed safely, yet gently, comforted by the words of our one-time enemy, "Possunt quia posse videntur."

Now, indeed, we have been distinctly unsuccessfully successful: the method of introducing that quotation is perhaps a trifle bald, but it had to come in somewhere. Let no one think, however, that it is inserted to show that we are acquainted with the Latin poets: after all, it does not show that a person has a profound knowledge of the Classics, if he knows the motto of his school, which happens to be taken from the Latin. Yet, strange though it may seem to some, this is the motto of our ancient foundation, rarely seen but on the school notepaper, and what we wanted to do was to show how appropriate it is at the present time. Every day we hear of great battles and huge victories, and in the present edition of our Magazine will be found further records of the noble deaths of some Old Breconians and the honourable wounds of others. Besides this, if for a moment we may be allowed to turn our backs on the war, and think of the successes of the present term, we shall surely find that we have so far proved ourselves worthy of our motto.

But to get on. When our last edition went to press, the Headmaster was seriously ill, but we are extremely gratified to know that he has by this time completely recovered. The whole School will join us in congratulating him on his recovery, and we sincerely hope that he will enjoy good health for many years to come, so that he may be enabled to carry on the splendid work he has already done for Christ College and all connected with it.

We will not trouble our readers, or rather ourselves, with any account of the doings of the Cricket XI., these matters will be found elsewhere. However, we feel it a duty to offer our heartiest congratulations to T. Ll. Evans on his good management of the team and games, which for the most part have been played although, let it be remarked, the summer’s rays have been conspicuous for their absence. Let us hope that Jupiter will soon return from what appears to be another visit to his Aethiopian friends and give us some real summer weather that we may at any rate enjoy the coming holidays.

“Where summer’s beauty midst of winter stays

And winter’s coolness, spite of summer’s rays,”

After such a “purple patch” we must conclude this our last Editorial. Before we finally disappear we should like to wish our successors as pleasant and successful a term of office as ours has been, and express to all the School a hope that, after the pains of examinations, they may enjoy a Summer holiday with some taste of summer weather.

IN MEMORIAM.

SYDNEY W. BELL: Hostel, 1895—1899; 2nd son of Rev. W. A. Bell, Vicar of Charlynch, Bridgwater. Killed in France on June 14th, while serving with the Canadians (Lieut. 8th Batt. 90th Winnipeg Regt.). Soon after leaving school he served in the South African War as an Electrical Engineer, and again in the Natal Campaign; for both of these he received medals. Before and after this military service he was engaged in mining on the Rand and in West Africa. He enlisted in the Canadian E.F. in 1914 and received his Commission in 1915. He was described as "a gallant officer, much loved by his men."

C. G. BOOTHBY: School House, 1909—1913; son of Mr and Mrs C. B. Boothby. Killed in France on April 28th, the anniversary of the day on which he entered Christ College. He was a 2nd Lieut. in the 8th Batt. South Staffordshire Regt., but at the time of his death was attached to the 177th Co. Royal Engineers. He entered Sandhurst soon after the outbreak of the war and received his Commission in 1915. He had been at the front for nearly a year. At School he made many friends by his charming personality and cheery good fellowship. Without achieving special distinction he left a mark in every form he passed through as a boy of more than average literary taste and ability, and he won a place as forward in the XV. of 1912. We mourn in him the loss of a worthy son of Christ College. The following extracts give some details about his death and show the high esteem that he earned among his military colleagues.

"He was with two other men in a part of one of our mines, when the enemy fired a camouflet on April 28th. The only consolation is that they must have been killed absolutely instantaneously and painlessly. He was a most likeable man and a very keen and efficient officer, and both I and all my officers feel his loss very deeply, both on the social and military counts."—Major in R.E.

"He was very popular in this Battalion, and the news of his death has been received with the profoundest regret by all who knew him. From the very first he proved himself keen and capable, and when he came out here he showed himself to be as courageous as he was capable. We were all disappointed that he did not get decorated for a very plucky bit of work which he did last October, when he was acting as mining officer in our trenches. An officer just senior to him got the decoration, but I have always understood that he was responsible for the work done—anyway, he risked his life to prevent the enemy blowing up a mine under our part of the trenches. We shall always remember him as a very gallant officer and a very upright, clean-minded English gentleman." Major in South Staffords.

A fellow subaltern also writes:—"Everybody was dumb-founded when they heard the news, and everybody misses his cheery smile, which always helped to cheer up our camp. I only hope I can be half as cheerful and fearless as he was—my very best friend out here."—An extract from one of his own most recent letters will be found in another column.

HAROLD B. DAVIES: School House, 1909—1911; 2nd son of Rev. W. P. Davies, Curate of Camden Church, Peckham. Killed in France in April, while serving as 2nd Lieut. with 3rd Batt. West Yorks Regiment. He was one of three brothers at Christ College, but entered school at a later age than most, having been for some years at Mill Hill School. He speedily took a prominent place in the life of the School, becoming a distinguished member of the Mathematical VIth and an all round athlete of no little ability. He was one of the best bowlers in the cricket XI.'s of 1909—10—11; he played forward with great success in the XV.'s of 1909 and 1910; he was a long distance runner of more than average merit, winning the Senior Steeplechase in record time in 1911 and carrying off the Senior Challenge Cup in the same year. He was also a member of the Hockey XI. 1910—11 and Captain in his last year. In every branch of our life his force of character brought him to the front; he was a Prefect and Captain of the School; few boys have possessed more wit and eloquence as a speaker, and the pages of the Breconian during his period as Editor bear witness to his literary ability. At Keble College, Oxford, he also won distinction and popularity. It is said that with a little more weight and physical strength he would have earned a certain Blue for his football, and he obtained a considerable reputation as a debater. The vigorous Oxford O.B. Society of his day owned almost everything to his enthusiastic leadership. At the outbreak of war (after taking Honours in the Final School of Modern History), he was preparing to read for Holy Orders, but though War and Militarism were strongly distasteful to him (or perhaps because they were so), he at once obeyed the call of duty and joined an Officers' Training Corps. He was gazetted to the West Yorks in June, 1915, and soon after became engaged to be married. His short period of active service in France was ended during a small attack on a German trench. With his death Christ College loses one of its most striking personalities of recent generations.

CHAS. P. HAZARD: School House, 1904--1907; 2nd son of Mr and Mrs. J. D. Hazard, Castle Court, Boscombe. Killed in France on the night of April 21st—22nd; he was a 2nd Lieut. in the 3rd Batt. Shropshire Light Infantry. A boy of somewhat retiring and studious habits, he made a mark in the Classical VIth and won an open scholarship at Jesus College, Oxford, where he graduated with Honours in 1911. He also won a place as a forward in the School XV. of 1908, and was a School Prefect. In 1912 he obtained a good position in the Colonial Civil Service and held an appointment in Agbor, Nigeria, which he resigned in 1915 in order to return home and take a Commission in the Army. Soon after reaching France he was slightly wounded, but returned in a short time to the front. After a night attack on the German trenches on April 21st he was at first reported missing, but subsequently the news came through that he had been seen to fall shot through the head while trying to assist a wounded fellow officer under very heavy fire. His death seems to have been worthy of the high character and name he won for himself at Christ College and elsewhere.

THE REV. DAVID POWELL RICHARDS: Entered Christ College in the later seventies and left in 1882. He had a brilliant career as a scholar, winning an open Mathematical Scholarship at Merton College, Oxford, and greatly distinguishing himself at the University. In 1885 he secured a Double First in Mathematics and Classics. He was for a short time a Fellow of Merton College and subsequently Senior Mathematical Master at Plymouth College. After a brief return to Christ College as a Master, he joined the Navy as a Chaplain and spent some years in the Service. Among other distinctions he was a Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society and a special Commissioner appointed by the Government to report on the Welsh Colony in Patagonia. At the time of his death, July 1916, he was Curate-in-charge of Walton West, Pembrokeshire.

EDWARD WILLIAM LAURENCE: Hostel, 1900—1903; son of Mr A. J. Laurence of Pontcymmer. Killed on active service, while serving as Capt. in the R.A.M.C., attached to the Royal Welsh Fusiliers. He was 28 years of age, and before the war had been in practice as a doctor at Bridgend.

LETTERS FROM THE WAR.

I.

About 8 days ago I left the R.E. Company to which I was attached and proceeded with the Brigade mining section to a new lot of trenches. Though this was only a matter of a few yards from one of the hottest mining sectors in the whole line, the mines we took over were reported to be very quiet and peaceful. Quiet and peaceful! I should smile! . . . I have been in the fighting line about 2 months now and only a couple of days ago did I have my first real adventure. The mines were handed over to two of us officers and one Brigade section. After we had been there 2 days an R.E. officer came up to look round. He went down my two and found all correct; then he went down the other two. Out of curiosity he went along an old gallery half-full of water. Imagine their surprise when they suddenly came upon an instrument like an enlarged telephone receiver, stuck in the wall and connected up with wires, which ran along the gallery in front into the darkness. This thing had German words on it; they disconnected it and brought it out. Of course it didn't require a Sherlock Holmes to deduce that the wily Bosch had broken into this old gallery farther along. So we then decided to explore and find where the Huns had got in. We went along through the water until we came to the German gallery. This was properly joined up with ours and must have been done long before we took over the mines; which was scandalous, for the people before us should have heard the Germans working. There was a water pump for pumping water into our sap; there was also the rest of the telegraphic apparatus, a beautiful and complicated piece of workmanship in a mahogany box. This was a kind of wireless, by which they could tap the wires from our front trenches running back to Headquarters, big guns etc. As we had only a rifle between us, we thought it dangerous to explore more than a few yards of the German gallery; so we cleared out and sent for explosives. Then we three went down again, the R.E. officer, a corporal and little me! Two rifles this time. Our object was to get the rest of the instrument, which we had left in the first instance for fear the Huns should come and find it gone, and so give the alarm, before we were ready to blow them up. So we went along, I first with a rifle and a flash lamp. The water made a horrible noise round our legs as it was up to the knee. The gallery had a slight bend; when we were round this and in the straight into which the German gallery ran at right angles, suddenly as the novels and penny hair-raisers say "A shot rang out!" As a matter of fact it did not ring at all, but made a business-like "poop"! I had to drop the lamp to work my rifle and managed to get one shot off while the other two retreated. Of course it was useless to stay any longer, as the Bosch had us absolutely. You see he was in a dry gallery and right round the corner, his revolver poked into our gallery and firing at random without exposing himself at all. I dropped my rifle and after groping in the water for my torch while he got two more shots off, I beat an absolutely panic-stricken retreat, dashing through water bent double to avoid the roof. It was, you realise, quite dark. I got to the others at the next corner round the bend about 15 yards from the German sap and found the corporal had lost his rifle too. So the R.E. officer went up to the surface, while we stayed on guard in the dark. A rifle came down and my revolver. Then we made things hum. Men all along the galleries behind us dragging full sand bags up and leaving them for us to build a barricade. I boarded up the corner we were holding and piled sand-bags behind. Then the explosives were sent down and the corporal and I packed sandbags round them and filled our own gallery with sand bags 6 feet back from the charge. My word! how we worked! It took us 4 hours to get the whole thing done ready for firing. The sandbags had to be dragged through water; consequently we were absolutely wringing and then the heat and bad air—phew!! The object of this haste was to get our charge off before the German got off his and buried us. About the toughest race I've run yet. Doubtless they were working as hard as we, but we won, thank God! The explosion made a 12-yard crater on the surface. General staff seemed rather "bucked."

(From France—Oct. 7th, 1915.)

II.

I have just received a pleasant reminder of my old school days in the "Breconian." I see you have been doing great things in the footer line and must congratulate the team. It is over 3 months since I left England and in that time I have had some travels and exciting times. First France was my destination and curiously enough the first man I met there was an O.B., R. V. Powell, in the R.A.M.C. After a week of cold rain we sailed for Egypt and had a glorious holiday for 3 weeks. I do not mean we did nothing; parades were very numerous but it was better than fighting. Since the beginning of December we have been digging trenches here (Salonika), occasionally being attacked by aircraft. It is bitterly cold to-day, but on the whole climatic conditions are not bad. We live in tents painted brown to prevent aircraft seeing them. It is not pleasant writing on the floor of one's tent; so please pardon the brevity of this note. Am looking forward to the next "Brecanion."

III.

Just a word to let you know that I had my first taste of war last week, and quite pleasant I found it, as we ("Royal Oak") were in the position of one who hits and is not hit in return. I thank my lucky stars I am not in the trenches, though I am told a certain military man on a visit to the fleet, who watched the action from the foretop, cried aloud in his agony, "give me back my dug-out!" This, however, may be as authentic as the many "buzzes" we have been hearing lately, which, in one way or another, have accounted for the whole of the High Sea Fleet. . . . There was just a spice of danger, but nothing much: "moukies"—I don't guarantee the spelling—were speeding pretty freely through the waters, and one "buzz" tells of a superdreadnought which saw some coming and promptly turned end on. One passed her close on the starboard, another on the port, a third—but by this time my brain was in such a whirl that I lost the rest of this most excellent story.

IV.

We left Folkestone with the usual destroyer and aircraft escort and arrived at Boulogne in good time. After a brief rest we trained to the base, where we remained a few days just polishing up specialist's work—bombing, gas drill, M. G.'s, and bayonet fighting. My recollection of that first day is a horrible nightmare of endless queues. On proceeding to the line I found my new battalion coming out into rest billets. After 3 days of this we went up to a different part of the line and have been here ever since, with the exception of 48 hours in 'support' in the village line. At first the weather gave one a bad impression of trench life, the chief enemies to comfort being mud and rats. Another fact that struck me was that in this part of the line our aircraft hold sway and our artillery also is superior in calibre and accuracy. All day there is spasmodic rifle fire, just as a matter of form, but at dusk and dawn things begin to get hot. Their artillery bombards us regularly at certain hours; for the rest of the day both sides spend their time shelling apparently inoffensive villages, though these roofless buildings are usually the best cover one ever gets in "rest." All day long the Huns' "Archies" bombard our planes, but never do any harm, though they flock about in (literally) hundreds, just at their will. I have only seen one Bosche and that hurried back so swiftly from our airmen that I was deprived of the spectacle of an aerial combat. One night, with another officer, I patrolled to the enemy wire to make a report on it. As they constantly have Veri lights, making the place almost as light as day, this is inclined to be an exciting sort of sport: we expected to have machine gun fire every minute. For the last 3 nights I have been in charge of wiring parties, out in front, and although the bullets from machine guns sparked on the wire, we escaped without casualties. I have to go out again to-night, unluckily! . . . We sprung a mine the other day, which in itself is an experience, but the subsequent bombardment by both British and Bosche guns of every calibre and from every direction was so heavy as to make it almost impossible to stand up, and to think that just one year ago I was playing cricket peacefully at the Coll.!!

THE ATHLETIC SPORTS.

The Sports were held this year on Monday, April 10th. The weather, though at times windy, was quite favourable. Though it was not as warm as some of the onlookers could have wished, yet it was quite hot enough for the competitors. The ground was fairly dry and firm. As was to be expected, the attendance was not large, yet many Brecon people came down to see the Sports as one of the few pleasures the War has left.

The House Competition, instituted only last year, did much to arouse enthusiasm, and many of the races were very keenly contested. As was expected from his performance last year, A. G. Henshaw succeeded in gaining the Senior Challenge Cup by a very substantial margin. To win six scratch events out of a possible eight is a performance not easily eclipsed. C. Ll. Morgan did quite as well as in the Junior Competition, and we therefore expect great things from him in the future.

The Officers of the Sports were:—President, The Rev. the Headmaster; Starter, G. H. Isitt, Esq.; Judges, Rev. A. E. Donaldson, and W. L. Hoskins, Esq.; Referee, W. H. Webb, Esq.; Timekeepers, A. H. Johns and G. Thomas; Handicappers, G. H. Isitt, Esq., R. L. Phillips, and G. Wilkinson; Games Committee, Rev. A. E. Donaldson (President), G. H. Isitt, Esq., W. L. Hoskins, Esq., D. J. Thomas, G. Wilkinson, W. Saunders-Jones, R. L. Phillips, T. Ll. Evans, A. G. Henshaw, and E. J. Morgan.

The Challenge Cup Events received marks as follows:—1st, 12; 2nd, 5; 3rd, 2. This applies to both Junior and Senior Competitors. The House Competition marks were:—Open events: 1st, 8; 2nd, 6; 3rd, 4. Under 16: 1st, 6; 2nd, 4; 3rd, 2. Other events: 1st, 4; 2nd, 3; 3rd, 2.

As usual, the morning programme began at 10.30. The results were as follows:—

1. Half Mile (under 16).—1st, C. Ll. Morgan; 2nd, Murray; 3rd, J. M. Lewis. Time, 2 min. 29 sec. The winner won easily in good time. Murray was a distinctly dark horse, but thoroughly deserved his place.

2. Putting the Weight (open).—1st, Henshaw; 2nd, D. J. Thomas; 3rd, Roberts. Distance, 26ft. 10½ins. The field was unusually large, though the result was not up to that of last year.

3. 100 yards (under 12).—1st, Owen; 2nd, T. Jones-Evans; 3rd, D. Jones-Evans. Time, 14 four-fifths secs. The Jones-Evanses ran well, and show promise for future years.

4. 220 yards handicap (open).—1st, J. D. H. Richards (20 yards); 2nd, D. C. Thomas (16 yards); 3rd, E. J. Morgan (12 yards). Time 25 four-fifths secs. A most closely contested race, in which the winner ran most pluckily. As this is the only short handicap race, the field was very large.

5. 150 yards (under 14). Final heat. 1st, D. K. Evans; 2nd, Owen; 3rd, K. V. Evans. Time 20 four-fifths secs.

6. Long jump (open).—1st, Henshaw; 2nd, D. J. Thomas; 3rd, Saunders Jones. Distance, 18ft. 7½ins. The winner jumped excellently, being very little short of the record. The competition was keen, and the jumping interesting.

7. 100 yards (under 16).—1st, C. Ll. Morgan; 2nd, G. C. Thomas; 3rd, T. L. Price. Time, 12 four-fifths secs.

8. 100 yards (under 15).—1st, G. C. Thomas; 2nd, T. L. Price; 3rd, Lloyd. Time, 13 secs. A very exciting race. Price fought hard against his adversary in the preceding race, and nearly defeated him. Next year he should do well.

9. Throwing the Cricket Ball (under 16).—1st, C. Ll. Morgan; 2nd, Roberts; 3rd, W. M. Jones. Distance, 69 yards. The competition was close, though the actual distance was about the average.

10. Quarter Mile (open).—1st, Henshaw; 2nd, Saunders-Jones; 3rd, F. M. Pryce. Time, 59 secs. Henshaw improved on his time of last year, but was harder pressed. In time he will become a good quarter-miler.

11. High Jump (under 16).—1st, Lloyd; 2nd, W. M. Jones; 3rd, C. Ll. Morgan and T. L. Price equal. Height, 4ft. 4½ins. An excellent jump, approaching perilously near to A. Tudor's record of 1910.

12. Throwing the Cricket ball (open).—1st, Henshaw; 2nd, E. J. Morgan; 3rd, J. D. H. Richards. Distance, 97yds. 1ft. 9ins. As he did last year, Henshaw monopolised this event, making several excellent throws. Next year we hope he may break the record.

13. Half Mile handicap (open).—1st, Murray (75 yds.); 2nd, C. du Heaume (170 yds.); 3rd, O. S. Williams (200 yds.). Time, 2min. 21 three-fifths secs. As usual a large number entered for this event. Murray, again appearing in his character of dark horse, won comparatively easily. C. du Heaume, after a plucky run, obtained his customary place.

14. The Tug-of-War was abandoned at the last moment.

This completed the morning's programme. In the afternoon the Sports were resumed at 3.0 p.m. The attendance was by this time much increased, and more interest was taken.

15. Quarter Mile (under 16). Final heat.—1st, C. Ll. Morgan; 2nd, G. Williams; 3rd, J. M. Lewis. Time, 63 secs. Morgan won this easily, and in excellent time.

16. Hurdle Race (open). Final heat.—1st, Henshaw; 2nd, Saunders-Jones; 3rd, Lloyd Rees. Time, 19 three-fifths secs.

17. 100 yards (under 13). Final heat.—1st, Owen; 2nd, D. Jones-Evans; 3rd, O. S. Williams. Time, 14 four-fifths secs. As was to be expected from his former performances, Owen won easily.

18. High Jump (open).—1st, Johns; 2nd, Lloyd Rees; 3rd, Henshaw Saunders-Jones and Smith equal. Height, 4ft. 9½ins. Johns jumped very well, attaining a very satisfactory height.

19. 220 yards (under 16). Final heat.—1st, C. Ll. Morgan; 2nd, Adams; 3rd, J. M. Lewis. Time, 27 four-fifths secs. As usual Morgan won easily. J. M. Lewis was again successful in obtaining his third place, for which he seemed to have quite a predilection.

20. 220 yards handicap (under 15). Final heat.—1st, Lloyd (20 yds.); 2nd, R. St. E. Richards (12 yds.); 3rd, Marshall (14 yds.). Time, 30 secs.

Lloyd ran well, and drew home first fairly easily. Blackall (scr.) made a plucky effort, but was too heavily handicapped to succeed in obtaining a place.

21. 100 Yards (open). Final heat.—1st, Saunders Jones; 2nd, Henshaw; 3rd, F. M. Pryce. Time, 11 two-fifths secs. This was a tremendously exciting struggle between the first two, but Saunders-Jones just managed to scrape home in front of Henshaw.

22. Long Jump (under 16).—1st, T. L. Price; 2nd, C. Ll. Morgan; 3rd, Lloyd. Distance, 15 ft. 9½ ins. Though Morgan jumped well, yet Price jumped better, and thoroughly deserved his success.

23. Quarter Mile handicap (under 16).—1st, Murray (15 yds.); 2nd, Peck (30 yds.); 3rd, J. M. Lewis (20 yds.). Time, 65 secs. Murray again deceived the handicapper, and beat a fairly large field. He ran pluckily and with judgment, and came home an easy winner. J. M. Lewis again obtained his favourite place.

24. Mile Race (open).—1st, Henshaw; 2nd, Sims; 3rd, Smith; 4th, A. L. Thomas. Time, 5 mins. 24 one-fifth secs. Henshaw and Sims soon left the remainder of the field, and kept well together all the way. Henshaw's superior sprinting powers, however, enabled him to draw somewhat ahead in the last hundred yards. Smith ran pluckily and with great determination.

25. The Senior Tug-of-War also was abandoned.

The following events were decided before the actual day of the Sports:—

Steeplechase (open).—1, Henshaw; 2nd, Prosser; 3rd, Sims. Time, 39 mins. 47 secs.

Steeplechase (under 15).—1st, L. G. Yendoll; 2nd, L. C. Davies; 3rd I. Ll. Evans. Time, 29 mins., 54 secs.

An account of these events appeared in last term's "Breconian."

Fives Championship (Singles).—E. J. Morgan. Runner-up, T. Ll. Evans.

Fives Cup (House), Hostel (E. J. Morgan and S. E. Lewis). Runners-up, School House.

Football Kicking Competition.—G. C. Thomas.

Tug-of-War (House Competition).—1st, N. Z.; 2nd, A. M.

Shooting Cup (House Competition).—1st, A. M.; 2nd, Hostel. Best individual score: W. G. Fryer.

Result of Challenge Cup. Senior (open).—1st, Henshaw, 65 two-third marks; 2nd, Saunders-Jones, 26 two-third marks.

Result of House Competition.—1, A.M., 143 five-sixths marks; 2, N. Z., 101 five-sixths marks.

Mile Race (under 16).—1st, C. Ll. Morgan; 2nd, L. C. Davies; 3rd, J. M. Lewis. Time, 5 mins. 47 one-fifth secs. The winner of last year found it an easy task to repeat his performance, but owing to lack of competition and the inaccuracy of the watches used, the time was only moderate. L. C. Davies ran very pluckily, picking up from a position of fifth in a wonderful way.

Owing to the generosity of the Masters and a few Old Boys, a number of prizes had been provided, thus pleasantly surprising the School. They were distributed privately the same evening by Mr. Donaldson, in the absence of the Headmaster, who was unable to attend owing to illness.

CRICKET SEASON.—1916.

Success has attended the efforts of all our Cricket XI's throughout the term. Only one defeat has been met with in any match, and against this the 1st XI. can claim 6 victories and the 2nd and 3rd XI's 5 between them. Our players, it would seem, find inspiration amid the difficulties of the present time and it is gratifying that so good a cricket record should follow closely on the heels of last Winter's excellent football team.

Some of our fixtures this term have been necessarily of a scratch nature and perhaps there has not been much to beat ; but the XI. came with the greatest credit out of its more difficult tests. The Hereford match was reluctantly abandoned ; but Monmouth and Llandovery were well beaten ; the striking success in this last match being of course the culminating feature of the season. We also defeated the pretty useful scratch Newport XI. brought up by Maurice Stratton, and there was no disgrace in failing, with the worst of the wicket, to hold our own against the side organised by Mr. Henshaw, since it contained a strong nucleus of Glamorgan County players.

While the whole XI. has worked well together and has fielded with skill and success, the main honours of the Season fall in batting to T. Ll. Evans and E. J. Morgan, and in bowling to Wilkinson, Henshaw, and T. L. Price. Evans and Morgan have been wonderfully consistent in their scoring. Only once each have they failed to reach double figures, and it was in accordance with the fitness of things that they should both have shown their best form in the splendid stand that won the Llandovery match. Henshaw has been the most likely run-getter and T. L. Price the most promising bat amongst the rest ; but the side was a level one and the last 6 or 7 men might have been sent in to bat in any order.

Wilkinson's bowling has been a great asset to the side. His steadiness and resource on all types of wickets have made him formidable to all opponents alike. He has had the distinction of passing through a season without ever being mastered, and on the one occasion of defeat he gained his most notable triumph, when he took 8 wickets for 65 runs against a really good batting side. Henshaw's pace has been an effective foil to his slower bowling, and he too has had some days of conspicuous success. T. L. Price, as in batting, holds out high hopes for the future, and there were always the Captain's leg breaks in reserve. Only one side made over 100 against us.

The fielding (let it be stated once more with emphasis) has been consistently sound; it has something yet to learn about accurate throwing in, but we have never seen a higher percentage of catches, both hard and easy, successfully held in one season.

The doings of the 2nd XI. without a Llandovery match call for little criticism; it was not a strong side but it contains some talent worth development.

The Leagues continue to do good work. The form shown has been curiously variable; on occasions the apparently weaker sides have gained victories over their more fancied rivals, and it is not easy to say which is really the best team. There are a number of likely batsmen in these games and a good deal of the fielding has been much better than that of last year; but bowlers of merit are still rather seriously scarce. One word of caution is also due on this subject. Masters have done much for the Leagues in the past, but this year has made it clear that, while the war lasts at any rate, a greatly increased responsibility must fall on the Old Colours. They must rise to the occasion in this important duty. Some have done so; but there has been at times need of stronger control and of more serious attention.

T. Ll. Evans must certainly be congratulated on the results of "his" year. His 61 against Llandovery is, we believe, the highest innings played by a Brecon player, in what is usually a match of small scores, for 30 years. He has been a Captain at all times willing to learn, and has proved himself an excellent tactician on the field of play.

Finally, though the weather has been wintry on the whole, we notice a distinct improvement in the drying of our wickets. We believe this is due to the levelling and draining done by Smart at the Pavilion corner last Christmas, and are very grateful to him for his successful work.

A. E. D.

The season, which is just over, has been on the whole above the standard of the last few years. In spite of the efforts of Jupiter Pluvius, who has been rather more insistent than is usual in a Summer term, we have had some very pleasant games and successful matches. The 1st XI. has proved itself worthy to uphold the traditions of former teams; the two more important school matches were won, while the Hereford match, at first postponed owing to Mumps among them, eventually fell through altogether, but owing to no fault of our own.

To turn to the 2nd XI., which perhaps has had less attention this year than before. The batting was quite good but the XI. suffered from the lack of a really successful bowler. S. Evans and W. M. Jones show signs of having cricket in them, and the former has played one or two sound innings. In the field C. Ll. Morgan has shown great energy.

In the Junior games, the League system has been carried on with marked success, and many of the younger members of the School, if properly looked after, should make good cricketers.

Our heartiest thanks are due to Mr. Donaldson, who has devoted himself with untiring energy to all departments of the game, and especially to the coaching of the 1st XI. We also owe gratitude to those Masters, who have looked after their respective leagues, and especially to Mr. Isitt, who has in addition to this lent his aid in a few scratch games in the 1st Game.

THE XI.—1916.

- T. Ll. EVANS.—1914-5-6.—Slower wickets, and the responsibilities of office have made him rather less aggressive than a year ago ; but he is still an excellent left hand bat, with powerful strokes all round and particularly on the leg-side. A fine field ; and always likely to get wickets with his leg breaks. Proved himself a clever captain.
- E. J. MORGAN.—1915-6.—Not exactly stylish nor specially strong in hitting ; but has done invaluable service with his watchful and sturdy defence. Has several crisp scoring strokes and plays slow bowling with good judgment. A very capable wicket keeper, seldom making a serious mistake.
- G. WILKINSON.—1915-6.—His bowling has improved immensely in resource and steadiness, and he has met with great success. His swerve, which comes late in the flight, is never overdone, and his variations in pace and elevation make him difficult to hit with impunity. A capital field, but the handicap of bad sight has taken all the confidence out of his batting.
- A. G. HENSHAW.—1915-6.—On a suitable wicket can bowl really fast, but he loses confidence too readily under difficulties. A forcing batsman with plenty of power in his driving ; at present stands too fast-footed. An excellent judge of a catch and active in all his fielding. Should become a first rate cricketer all round with greater nerve and determination.

- T. L. PRICE.—1916.—One of the most promising of our younger players. Bats in excellent style, with a hard clean drive ; a medium pace bowler, who keeps a good length and has a very puzzling flight at times. Very sound field.
- S. E. LEWIS.—1916.—His good eye and quite considerable hitting powers should have earned more runs ; at present is rather a poor judge of the length of a ball, and is clumsy in his back play. A quick and accurate field anywhere. An erratic but occasionally useful change bowler.
- G. N. LLOYD REES.—1916.—Bats suo more, but at times distinctly well. Apt, however, to lose his head and consequently his wicket. A safe field but rather slow in pursuit of the ball.
- R. M. ROBERTS.—1916.—A trifle rustic in his methods ; but if he cultivates his natural advantages of reach and power, may become a run getter. Very safe field with a good hard return, but covers insufficient ground. Can bowl a promising ball.
- K. G. EVANS.—1916.—Has not scored many runs so far, but they will come in time. His methods are sound and his patience unlimited. Has fielded very smartly at point or short slip.
- I. LL. OXENHAM.—1916.—May make a really useful bat next year, as he is keen and can already hit well in front of the wicket. Very sound in the field.
- F. M. PRYCE.—1916.—Has hardly made the most of his good natural style. Is rather slow on his feet, a fault which prevents his fielding being quite up to the mark at present.

CHRIST COLLEGE v. MONMOUTH GRAMMAR SCHOOL.—Played at Brecon, on Saturday, June 10th, on a wicket not fully recovered from the effects of recent rain. After an early disaster Morgan and T. Ll. Evans played sound cricket and with generous assistance from "Mr. Extras" (who throughout the match scored freely for us) raised the score to 36. A brief stoppage for rain unsettled T. Ll. Evans, who hit a slower and shorter one up to cover, and the next two batsmen were promptly 'hat-trick'-ed by quick balls tossed right up to the bat. Morgan's steady innings also ended with 3 runs added, and we seemed in a desperate plight. Henshaw and T. L. Price then made a valuable stand of 25 for the next wicket; both played with confidence and made some good hits on the off side. Another breakdown followed in the last over before lunch, which cost us 3 wickets and left the situation still serious. Lewis and Roberts, however, hit up a very useful 20 chiefly at the expense of the Monmouth Captain's slow bowling, and a somewhat adventurous innings ultimately realised 90 in all. Russell's good bowling was the prime cause of its more disastrous features.

The Monmouth Captain, Forbes, started in great form, driving either bowler splendidly on the off side, but in the fourth over he mistimed Wilkinson's swinging length ball and fell an easy victim to cover. This, as events proved, decided the match; for the rest of the innings was dominated by the bowlers. Wilkinson in particular proved too good for most of the side and only one hitter and one steady batsman offered much resistance, though the tail as a whole showed up rather better than the early part of the team.

Our second innings provided some rather more consistent batting, but no one really got going. T. Ll. Evans and Morgan made a stand of considerable length but the former has often played sounder cricket. Price and Wilkinson shaped in best style among the rest. In the remaining 35 minutes Monmouth collapsed and were in danger of complete rout, had the match been decided on both innings. As it was we were well satisfied with a creditable first innings success of 31 runs.

The two Captains, T. Ll. Evans and Forbes, were no doubt better batsmen than any of their colleagues, and our general scoring power appeared considerably superior to that of our opponents. But the bowlers carried off the honours of the day; though it is only fair to add that they were assisted by one or two awkward spots in a pitch that dried unevenly as the day proceeded. Russell (15 for 59) with his quickness off the pitch, unvarying straightness and well-devised changes of pace seemed to be a bowler of more than average School ability. Wilkinson (8 for 30), after a couple of overs, bowled steadily and effectively; his swing away was very well managed, being neither too obvious nor too exaggerated. Our change bowling was also useful. Both sides fielded creditably, but Monmouth were sadly handicapped by lack of a good wicket keeper. Score and analysis:—

CHRIST COLLEGE V. LLANDOVERY COLLEGE.—Played at Brecon on Wednesday, July 5th, after a postponement from the previous Saturday thanks to the heavy rain. The wicket was a bit slow at the start and Llandovery probably gained little by winning the toss except the usual moral advantage. The opening play was correct but very slow; then Wilkinson suddenly took 3 wickets in rapid succession; among these Oxenham judged a lofty catch in the deep with commendable coolness. Before 20 was reached Richards, previously bowled by a no-ball and nearly run out, was brilliantly caught low down at cover; altogether a most favourable start for our attack. The next pair made a plucky effort to pull things round and for a few minutes scored with some freedom, but Price, judiciously substituted for Henshaw, bowled Timothy with a “flighty” full-pitch and got the younger Roberts caught at the wicket next ball. This practically finished the opposition and the innings was over by 12-45. Price had a sensational analysis, which his steady length combined with an awkward plunge into the air at the end of the flight thoroughly deserved. Wilkinson was not immaculate in his length, but he bowled with his usual good judgment and had the batsman feeling for him on the off-side all the time. Our catching was excellent and several smart things were done on the ground, notably by T. Ll. Evans, but some of the throwing in was over excitable and lost us a run-out or two.

Llandovery seemed to miss an opportunity, when they were not ready to get us at the wicket for a couple of overs before lunch, and after the interval on a wicket which had rolled out firm and good we made a leisurely but confident start. At 13, however, K. G. Evans, having previously tested the catching abilities of a very short slip, unwisely repeated the experiment. T. Ll. Evans opened his account by hitting his first ball to the square leg boundary, and from this point he and Morgan took charge of a somewhat weak and not very discreetly handled attack. They scored at a great pace, 8 or 10 runs coming from every over, and gave no sort of chance to the field. The Llandovery score was soon left behind, and the 100 had appeared on the board, before T. Ll. Evans very unluckily deflected a widish full toss on to his leg stump. His 61, made in less than 45 minutes out of 90 for the partnership, was a dashing display of confident forcing cricket. His leg hitting was particularly clean, and the Llandovery fast bowler was kind to him in this direction; he also made some capital straight drives. Morgan continued the good work, but after surviving two rather transient partners he also was dismissed rather by misfortune than mistake, losing his balance in hitting to leg and failing to recover his ground. A sounder innings than his 57 has seldom been played in a Llandovery match; particularly noticeable was the ease and certainty with which he time after time went five or six yards out of his ground to the leg breaks and scored safe singles from the full pitch. The remaining batsmen treated the bowling a little too light heartedly, and gave a good stumper chances of distinguishing himself. Lewis, however, batted uncommonly well, making four big boundary strokes, before being finely caught from a powerful drive. Lloyd Rees, apart from a beautiful cover drive, was rather scratchy, but Oxenham and Pryce played two or three capital shots each. A score of 192 left us handsome victors by 135 runs; and it is worth mentioning that we made our runs at an average rate of 2 per minute. The steadiest bowler was Timothy, but his short spells of work earned no success; the slows got most wickets, but at a great cost. Much of the fielding was smart, but their catching was distinctly less sure than ours.

The Llandovery second innings gave their Captain the chance of playing an excellent knock, and our fieldsmen of making some more good catches. But the interest had by this time died out and the bowling was not so keen and accurate as before. Heavy rain stopped the game about 20 minutes before time.

Our XI. must be congratulated on the biggest victory we have won in this match since 1902 and also on the good cricket by which they achieved it. T. Ll. Evans, in addition to his brilliant batting and fielding, led his side with quiet confidence and unfailing good judgment. Scores:—

2ND XI. MATCHES.

CHRIST COLLEGE 2ND XI. V. SWANSEA GRAMMAR SCHOOL.—This match was played on St. Helen's ground, Swansea, on May 24th. The School won the toss and decided to bat on a medium wicket. Our first pair, S. Evans and K. G. Evans, batted with care, but failed to score for some time, chiefly owing to the long grass round the wicket. With 4 wickets down for 12 runs the prospect of a win for us did not seem promising, but Lloyd Rees played dashing cricket and quickly made 34. After this came another collapse, but a last wicket stand by T. Thomas and F. M. Pryce added 29. Pryce batted well for his 12, and T. Thomas hit with his usual vigour. For Swansea, Penrose bowled in good style and kept a fair length, but their fielding was only moderate. The School running was on some occasions bad, and it must be remembered that this is by no means the least important factor in the winning of a match. Swansea went in and faced the bowling of S. E. Lewis and T. L. Price. Both bowled a good length and soon had the whole side dismissed for 48 and we were left easy victors. Davies was the best bat on the Swansea side and played a careful innings. The School fielding was on the whole good. We should like to take this opportunity of thanking Swansea Grammar School for the great kindness shown to us on our first visit. Scores :—

CHRIST COLLEGE 2ND XI. v. BRECON COUNTY SCHOOL 1ST XI.—Played June 17th, on a very fast wicket. The School batted first and knocked up 103 for 7 wickets, chiefly due to the good batting of S. Evans. The County School went in and scored 50 for 8, when unfortunately time was up and robbed us of an almost certain victory. Scores :—

CADET CORPS.

The Corps this term numbers 70 boys. Some of these are perhaps younger and smaller than we should care to accept under ordinary conditions, but the necessity for raising a full platoon for drill purposes has caused their inclusion to seem advisable, and many of them make up for their inexperience by unusual keenness.

The following N.C.O's. have been appointed :—Sergeants : F. M. Pryce, Phillips, H. I. K. Jones, Henshaw ; Corporal : T. Ll. Evans ; Lance Corporals D. C. Thomas, Johns, N. Evans.

Three bugles and a drum form the nucleus of a bugle band, but require a considerable amount of practice in playing together on the march. We hope to add to their number next term.

Undoubtedly the outstanding event of the term from the military point of view has been our blossoming (to mix metaphors somewhat) from the chrysalis of an un-uniformed drill squad into a full-fledged and recognised Cadet Corps. We are now affiliated to the Brecknockshire Territorials and have consequently been able to secure the services of Sergeant Burke for two of our three weekly drills. Thanks to his efforts there has been a very marked improvement in the Corps, but there is still a regrettable tendency, not altogether confined to the younger and less responsible members, to slackness and inattention on parade. I should like to take this opportunity of pointing out that the carelessness and slovenliness of a few boys seriously retard the progress of the whole Corps, and render it impossible for us to pass on as yet to more advanced and more interesting portions of our training. Some of the most elementary movements are still very poorly performed, and the fault is almost entirely due to a small minority of our number.

We have had three route marches this term. On Thursday, July 6th, the Headmaster gave the Corps a half-holiday, of which we took advantage to march to Llangorse. The afternoon on the whole proved a success, in spite of decidedly unpleasant weather and the fact that the caterer had somewhat underestimated the capabilities of certain of our hungrier members. We had intended to despatch the smaller cadets back to Brecon by train while the remainder returned by road, but heavy rain commencing during the tea-interval necessitated a forced march to the station on the part of the whole Corps.

Owing to inclement weather and other reasons there seem to have been comparatively few opportunities for the use of the range, but there are several promising shots among the younger boys, and I hope to see a decided improvement in the scoring in the next competition for the House Cup.

G.H.I.

LORD KITCHENER.

Viscount Kitchener, Lord of Broome,
 Known to fame by the fight at Khartoum,
 Sirdar of Egypt, 'twas there your star shone ;
 By the stroke of a mine to your death you have gone.
 By planning and scheming 'twas your great work
 To baffle the German, th' Austrian and Turk,
 And for this great purpose you went on your way
 To meet with the Tsar on that fateful day.

Creator of armies, England's strong hand,
 Directing our forces that fight on the land,
 Little we thought that your death you should meet
 Upon the great ocean where fights England's fleet.
 The seas running high, the gale blowing strong,
 The good ship " Hampshire " went steaming along ;
 Of her twenty-five knots she was making the most,
 When she struck that stray mine off the grim Scottish coast.

Viscount Kitchener, Lord of Broome,
 Doing your duty you went to your doom ;
 You found the soldier, Lloyd George found the gun,
 Alas, you'll ne'er see your great victory won.
 " Lord Kitchener's dead, our strong hand no more,"
 Your second great fight with our enemy o'er ;
 Mourned by all England you ever shall be,
 Living for aye in the hearts of the free.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

The term began on Wednesday, May 10th, and will end on Monday, July 31st.

At a meeting of the School on Wednesday, May 10th, T. Ll. Evans was unanimously elected Captain of Cricket, and F. M. Pryce was elected to a vacancy on the Games Committee.

The Editors of The Breconian this term are W. D. G. Wilkinson, F. M. Pryce, and G. Thomas.

G. Thomas and N. Evans have been appointed House Prefects of the School House.

We beg to offer a belated, but nevertheless hearty welcome to Rev. G. I. R. Jones and Mr. G. H. Hardy.

We acknowledge gratefully the sum of £2 presented by an O.B., who wishes to remain anonymous, for the benefit of the School Library. It is proposed to purchase some volumes of the Cambridge Historical Series with his generous gift.

On Sunday, May 14th, Rev. E. E. Davies preached in Chapel at the Evening Service, and on Sunday, May 28th the preacher at the Evening Service was Rev. H. J. Church Jones (O.B.)

A half-holiday was granted the School on Whit-Monday, June 12th. On Thursday, July 6th, the Headmaster granted a half-holiday to the Cadet Corps, and on Thursday, July 13th, to the Choir.

We beg to congratulate H. I. K. Jones and A. G. Henshaw on the very able manner in which they have presided at the Organ in Chapel since Mr. Large's resignation last term.

We all greatly regret the departure of Mr. Large, who has taken an interest not only in the Choir, but in all the doings at the School, and we wish him every success in the Military duties he has undertaken.

Captain W. R. Henry (O.B.), who enjoyed some big game shooting in British East Africa just before the war, was attached to the Headquarters Staff of the Indian Expeditionary Force, and has lately been appointed to the command of the Signalling Squadron, 2nd. Cavalry Division, Indian Army.

The Rev. H. Thomas (O.B.) has been appointed Vicar of Llangeinor, Ogmore Vale.

T. G. Powell (O.B.), who recently passed the intermediate Law Examination, has now successfully negotiated the Accounts and Book-keeping Examination of the Law Society.

H. G. Schenk (O.B.), is, we hear, engaged in Munition Work.

2nd Lieut. E. D. T. Jenkins, whose name occurs among the severely wounded in the Casualty Lists, has been brought to England and is, we are glad to hear, doing well.

MARRIAGES.—On June 11th, at Pontfaen Parish Church, Walter Horsfall, third son of A. O. Schenk, Esq., C.E., and Mrs. Schenk, of 53, Bryn Road, Swansea, to Lois Myfanwy, only daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. D. Jenkin Evans, of the Vicarage, Pontfaen, Fishguard.

On June 27th, at Barnsley, Capt. G. R. Pennant (O.B.), R.A.M.C. to Miss Christina Browne.

On July 8th, 2nd Lieut. Herbert Eynon (O.B.) to Miss Williams.

V. Coldicutt (O.B.), was married in June to Miss Logie, and we hear of the marriage of 2nd Lieut. J. Brooker (O.B.), while home on leave with a slight wound, but of these two events we are unable as yet to give details.

Captain R. V. Powell, (O.B.), R.A.M.C., who was also married on December 23rd, while on leave, has since been in India, and is now serving on a Hospital Ship between Basra and Bombay.

L. G. Lewis, (O.B.), who was recently home with trench feet, has now returned to the Front, and is, we hear, trying to obtain a commission.

2nd. Lieut. P. S. Lewis (O.B.), R.F.A., who was wounded at Kut-el-Amara, and from whom no further news was heard from for several months, is now reported prisoner of war among the Turks.

We have received visits from the following O.B.'s this term :—
E. Arnott, E. Corbett, T. R. Davies, A. W. T. Evans, E. M. Gibbon, S. R. Gibbon, A. Henshaw, D. L. Jones, E. J. Leyshon, J. H. Llewellyn, Dr. T. Morgan, I. M. Powell, H. Saunders-Davies, W. Saunders-Jones, H. G. Schenk, B. K. Stratton, F. Stratton, M. Stratton, E. F. Thomas, H. E. Thomas, I. J. S. Yorath.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editors of The Breconian

We trust we shall not be too late to have the pleasure of writing to the old "Mag," once again. We beg to convey to the School our sincere sense of pleasure at its successful year in games, and our heartiest congratulation to this year's Cricket XI. upon its victories over Monmouth and especially Llandovery.

Wishing the School further success in work and games.

We remain,

Inns of Court O.T.C. O.B.'s,

BERKHAMSTED.

To the Editors of The Breconian.

DEAR SIRs,—Could not the old cricket sheets be mended before next year? If this is impossible, surely the School carpenter can make new ones at small cost. At present it is extremely difficult to see the ball, especially from the Orphanage end; besides, they would prevent persons walking behind the bowler's arm.

Yours, etc.,

"BLIND BARTI."

To the Editors of The Breconian.

DEAR SIRs,—Would it not be possible to have the photograph of this term's cricket team in the Breconian next term. It has been done on one or two former occasions of notable successes.

Yours truly,

ONE OF THE XI.

To the Editors of The Breconian.

DEAR SIRs,—I wish to thank all Old Breconians, through the medium of your columns, for their letters of congratulation on the victory over Llandovery, as I find it impossible to answer them all personally.

Believe me, yours truly,

T. LL. EVANS.

To the Editors of The Breconian.

DEAR SIRs,—Could not scientists have overalls or some protection for their clothes while carrying out some experiments in the Laboratory. Hoping this will receive due consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Names marked with an asterisk (*) are those of annual members, who are reminded that their subscriptions lapse with the next number of "The Breconian" and should be renewed on or before January 1st, 1917.

The Recorder (Rev. A. E. Donaldson, The Hostel, Christ College, Brecon) will be glad to receive information of any change of address or of any errors in the above list. He begs to remind Old Boys that the O.B.A. is treating all members with the Colours as honorary members for the period of the war and hopes that civilian members will not fail to maintain their subscriptions to enable this extra expense to be met.

The rates of subscription to the O.B.A. are as follows:—2/6 per annum, 10/- for 5 years, £1 for 10 years.
