

THE SAVILIAN
SUMMER TERM,
1915

CONTENTS.

Editorial Notes
De Omnibus Rebus
Death of Mr. H. A. Brooke
The Late Lieut. C. B. Sugden
Requiescam
The Late Lieut. R. Marsden
Annual Sports
Junior School Notes
The Term's Cricket
Characters of the Team
School in War Time
In Camp with the Y.M.C.A.
Circumambient Definition or Platitudes on Tact
German Universities
De Rerum Natura, or The Vagaries of the Weather
Salvete et Valet
Old Savilian Notes
Roll of Honour (continued)

All ordinary communications to be addressed to the Editors, the Grammar School, Wakefield. The Annual Subscription to the Magazine is 1/6, or 1/7½ post free. The Magazine is published at the end of Term. Intending Annual Subscribers are requested to inform the Editors.

News of Old Savilians will be specially welcomed for inclusion in the Old Savilian Notes, and should be addressed for that purpose to G. E. Webster, Esq., 8 South Parade, Wakefield, or C. H. Head, Esq., at the School.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Our summer term has been in many ways a clouded one. The deeply regretted loss of one of our best known Masters, Mr. Brooke, was followed very shortly by the death of Mr. Langhorne, who for twenty years had been Clerk (and latterly Joint Clerk) to the Governors of the School. Mr. Langhorne was a gentleman of the courteous, finished and kindly type that nowadays seems to be passing, and his decease is another lamentable addition to the many losses sustained of late by our Governing Body.

x x x

The country's Roll of Honour, in the fuller and sadder sense of the phrase, has begun to claim some of our Old Savilians. We reproduce portraits as well as notices of two who have thus fallen, and propose to continue this practice throughout the war.

DE OMNIBUS REBUS.

At the beginning of this term the entire School was conscious of bereavement in the loss of one of its most esteemed masters. The death of Mr. H. A. Brooke was a great blow to all who had worked with, or under, him, and we offer our sincerest sympathy to Mrs. Brooke and her son.

x x x

Two of our Masters are leaving us this term. Mr. Allen, who has for six years occupied the position of geography master, and has won the respect of the whole School, has been appointed to the charge of the Junior School at King's School, Chester. In addition to his scholastic work, Mr. Allen has always taken a keen interest in the games, and has devoted much valuable time to the musketry practice which was instituted at the beginning of the war. Mr. Farrell, who also leaves us, has temporarily filled the position vacated by Mr. Fletcher, who joined the colours last year. Our best wishes attend both in their new sphere.

x x x

A thrilling incident has befallen us this term in the form of an invasion of the School by His Majesty's Inspectors of Education.

HENRY ANDREW BROOKE.

The prefects this term have been:—S. P. Hayward, H. L. Hopper, E. R. Sudbury, G. W. Webster.

x x x

The Company Drill which was introduced at the beginning of the war has been continued with great success during the present term. The entire Senior School has been formed into one company, of which the first platoon has been provided with dummy rifles. Six squads have also had musketry practice. The Headmaster has acted as Company Commander, whilst Mr. Allen has supervised the shooting.

x x x

Various contributions have been made by the School to the War Funds. During this term £11 was contributed to the V. A.D. Ambulance in connection with Clayton Hospital. Of this £2 2s. 0d. was given by the Old Savilians' Club.

x x x

The cricket team has had a more successful season than last year, although the list of the fixtures has been curtailed on account of the war. The junior games, under the direction of Mr. Gibling, have again proved to be full of interest, and the competition has been keenly contested. Several promising youngsters have already been discovered. The premier honours of the junior games rested with the Swifts, who were closely seconded by the Magpies.

x x x

We have been fortunate in retaining the annual cricket match with the Old Savilians. Though the match will not be accompanied by the customary festivities, yet we are looking forward to it with eager expectation. The date arranged for the occasion is Wednesday, July 28th.

x x x

The Annual School Sports, as a public function, have been abandoned. No prizes have been awarded for any of the events, except for the Open Handicap Mile, which has been inaugurated this year. Nevertheless, the competition for the Cup and Shield was maintained with the customary enthusiasm. The usual handicap races were omitted from the programme.

The Tennis Club has enjoyed some excellent games. We were much indebted to Miss McCroben for the fixture with the High School, which proved a great success.

x x x

The School Swimming Club is still in a thriving condition in spite of the numerous other attractions of the summer term. The Swimming Sports have been fixed for Monday, September 27th.

x x x

We extend our heartiest congratulations to the following on receiving their first team cricket colours at various times during the present term:—J. S. G. Holmes, W. C. Tooth, G. Hoyland, W. H. Massie.

x x x

The Gymnasium Competition was held on July 1st. The events were keenly contested, and the following were the successful candidates:—SENIOR, J. P. Peel; INTERMEDIATE, C. H. Marshall; JUNIOR, S. Walker.

x x x

The editors wish to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the following contemporaries, apologising for any omissions:—Rock Magazine, Danensis, Frestonian, Giggleswick Chronicle, Leodensian, Hill and Dale, Chronicles of Ermysted and Petyt Journal, Liverpool Institute School Magazine, Fulneck School Magazine, Grovian, Olavian.

THE DEATH OF MR. BROOKE.

It was with deep and heartfelt grief that we heard of the death of Mr. Brooke. No master has been more universally popular: we all identified him with the most pleasant side of our school life. Old boys, spread over the world, included him always in the best memories of their school days, and an inquiry as to his welfare was always one of their first questions.

He was devoted to the interests of the School, always keen on school games of every kind. In his younger days he took an active part in these, and even up to his illness was ever ready to help by advice and encouragement.

CHRISTOPHER BABINGTON SUGDEN

Whenever the sports, concert, or speech day were approaching, he was invariably ready to give time and trouble, and the success of any entertainment which was given in the School was always in great measure due to his care.

He was at all times kindly and encouraging to those who worked under him, not least when his own health was failing, and his pluck in refusing to give in to his illness, his devotion to his work, shewn right up to the last, are now recognised and admired by all.

His best monument—the one he would have liked the best—is the memory which all who have been at the School will ever retain of him, associated with the happiest period of their life.

The funeral took place at the Cemetery on May 6th 1915, the first part of the service being held in St. John's Church. The whole School was present, together with a large gathering of friends and old boys. The four prefects followed the coffin to the grave. The lesson was read by the Rev. Canon Thompson, while the Rev. E. W. Hughes took the remainder of the service. The singing was led by a choir chosen from the boys and accompanied by Mr. Hoskins.

The inscription on the coffin was :—

Henry Andrew Brooke,
Born July 11th 1855,
Died May 3rd 1915.

Wreaths were sent by the Headmaster and Mrs. Barton, the Masters, the Boys, the President and Members of the Old Savilians Club, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Peacock, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Head, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Welch, and by many friends and relatives.

THE LATE LIEUT. C. B. SUGDEN.

DURING this term, the first of the many Old Savilians who are now serving in H.M. Forces was killed in action.

C. B. Sugden only a few years ago was a prominent member of the VI form and a prefect of the School. He was much respected by all, for everyone knew that he had the real interest of the School at heart. After he left the Grammar School in 1912 he went to Merton College, Oxford, where he joined the University O.T.C. Soon after the outbreak of the war he took a commission as 2nd Lieut. in the K.O.Y.L.I.

On the 25th May he was ordered to hold a farmhouse against the enemy, and there, while snatching a brief rest after carrying out his duties in an able manner, was killed by the explosion of a shell.

He has the distinction of being the first Old Savilian (within our knowledge) to fall in the cause of his country, and we feel that no one was fitter than he to be invested with such an honour.

His nature was marked by instinctive dignity and modest reserve. To his many friends he was known as a man of flawless honour, a gentleman by soul as well as manner, and of deep religious feeling. For music, literature and the arts he had a fine natural taste, and his promise of distinguished personality was already passing into fact. All his soldier comrades bear testimony to his knightly character, and deplore his loss. Of none can it be said more truly that his short life and early death made one perfect piece.

REQUIESCAM.

[The lines below are printed as they stand from an unrevised draft left among Lieut. Sugden's papers, and were probably among the last notes in verse which he made.]

Soft be the winds when alone and adrift I sail for the sunset,
Soft sing the keel as it speeds o'er the ripply plain of the ocean,
Bearing me gently at last to the far-off island of resting.
Then as the wavelets rhythmic'ly bubble and prattle beneath me,
Singing for joy at the deep blue vault star-dusted above me—
Then may that mystic choir, so sweet, like an echo of echoes, Lull me to wondering sleep. Then, then, when my boat, with a whisper,
Stops on the silver strand of that dear cool breakerless sea-shore,
Deep in a longed-for sleep let them carry me into the woodland,
Leave me to rest there alone in silence—alone and in silence!
Deep in a fragrant grove of yew and cypress and cedar,
Knowing no anxious cares nor fears for a doubtful tomorrow,
Lost, in a dreamless slumber, till God in His own good season,
Out of His heaven above, to His blessed Presence shall call me!

THE LATE LIEUT. R. MARSDEN.

LIEUT. Reginald Marsden, 1st 8th Battalion, Manchester Regiment, who was in the service of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Company at the Trafford Park and Ship Canal Depôts, was killed in action in the Dardenelles on June 7th.

Reginald Marsden was brother to Philip, Willie and Duke Marsden, all Old Savilians, and was himself a boarder with Mr. Peacock and Mr. Head from 1902 to 1907. He was a good all-round sportsman in every sense of the word; he was a strong swimmer, and played full-back for the Bowden Y.M.C.A and Broughton Park Rugby Union Football Clubs.

His many friends will receive the news with the greatest regret, as he was universally popular both at School and at business. As recently as January 12th last, Lieut. Marsden married in Cyprus, the daughter of the late Archdeacon Spencer. To his widow and brothers we offer our sincerest sympathy.

THE ANNUAL ATHLETIC SPORTS.

THIS, one of the most interesting events of the Summer Term, has been affected, equally with all other spheres of school activity, by the war. Many people fully expected a dearth of competitors for the few races that were to be held when it was announced that "with a single exception, no prizes would be awarded." But fortunately their suspicions were altogether unfounded; entries were none the less forthcoming, and so the Wakefield Grammar School effectively cleared itself of the monstrous charge of being a collection of "pot-hunters."

It had been decided that the races for the Senior Cup and Junior Shield should be contested as usual; and, for the sake of convenience, the whole programme of events was arranged to extend over four evenings.

The weather, though dull and at times threatening, favoured us sufficiently on those evenings (with the exception of the first Monday), and the competition throughout was very keen. No records were actually made, but a word of praise is to be accorded A. B. Hayden for his high jump of 4 ft. 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ in., which, if it did not break the Junior record, at least equalled it.

The events for the Senior Cup were more keenly contested than has been the case for many years. Finally, A. Mellor and R. Hodgkins tied for the Cup, whilst the long distance races were won by W. H. Massie. The Junior Shield was easily won by R. E. L. Wellington, whilst the much coveted trophy, the House Shield, was won by the Swifts by a large majority of points.

In conclusion, a word of thanks is due to the unsparing efforts of Mr. Head and our Hon. Secretary F. W. Skinner, to whose zeal is largely due the success of the whole undertaking: also a wish that our next Sports may be held under more auspicious conditions, meteorological and political, and to the usual accompaniment of numerous summer-clad spectators and festive music.

The following kindly officiated during the proceedings, and to them also our thanks are due:—

JUDGES—J. B. Baynes, Esq., A. B. Young, Esq., W. F. Beard, Esq., G. Saunders, Esq., G. E. Welch, Esq., W. C. Pallett, Esq.

REFEREE—J. E. Barton, Esq.

STARTERS—C. H. Head, Esq. and T. W. Gibling, Esq.

HANDICAPPERS—J. E. Barton, Esq., C. H. Head, Esq., S. P. Hayward.

TIMETAKERS—W. E. Plumbridge, Esq., H. H. Brown, Esq., C. R. Hoskins, Esq.

Appended is a list of events and winners:

MONDAY, JUNE 28TH, 1915.

SENIOR HIGH JUMP—1 F. W. Aspinwall, 2 W. Garbett, 3 R. Hodgkins. Height, 4 ft. 10 in.

JUNIOR HIGH JUMP—1 A. B. Hayden, 2 S. Walker, 3 R. E. L. Wellington. Height, 4 ft. $3\frac{3}{4}$ in.

FRIDAY, JULY 2ND, 1915.

SENIOR QUARTER-MILE—1 R. Hodgkins, 2 A. Mellor, 3 W. H. Massie.

JUNIOR HALF-MILE—1 R. E. L. Wellington, 2 S. Walker, 3 R. C. C. Thompson.

SENIOR MILE—1 W. H. Massie, 2 A. Mellor, 3 F. W. Aspinwall.

JUNIOR QUARTER-MILE—1 R. E. L. Wellington, 2 S. Walker, 3 A. E. Hoyland.

SENIOR 100 YARDS—1 R. Hodgkins, 2 W. H. Massie, 3 A. Mellor.

MONDAY, JULY 5TH, 1915.

SENIOR BROAD JUMP—1 A. Mellor, 2 R. Hodgkins, 3 F. W. Aspinwall. Distance, 18 ft. 11½ in.

JUNIOR BROAD JUMP—1 R. E. L. Wellington, 2 S. Walker, 3 A. B. Varley. Distance, 14 ft. 11½ in.

FRIDAY, JULY 9TH, 1915.

SENIOR HALF-MILE—1 R. Hodgkins, 2 W. H. Massie, 3 A. Mellor.

JUNIOR 100 YARDS—1 R. E. L. Wellington, 3 J. F. Walker, 3 S. Walker.

SENIOR HURDLES—1 A. Mellor, 2 R. Hodgkins, 3 W. H. Massie.

OPENING HANDICAP MILE—1 W. Garbett, 2 A. Mellor.

JUNIOR SCHOOL NOTES.

THE war has of course made itself felt even in the Junior School, and weekly donations have been made for the Wakefield Ambulance and also for the Smokes for Soldiers Fund. There has been a steady flow of small sums, as it was intended that all contributions should come from a boy's pocket money, and not from the parents, who have calls of their own.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. Metcalfe (now Captain, and Major that is to be, so we understand) is fit again and will leave in a few days for the front. His stirring appeals to patriotism will long remain with us.

The chief events of the term are, as usual, described by a junior school member, this time in II Lower.

"I wish to remind you that last term II Upper put in the Civillian that they were cock shure of the Cup, but we won it. I Upper have left their class-room and it is now a museum. Only animals that do not eat each other are put in the same glass case. There is a rule that nobody is to toughch anithing, but I do not thingk this rule is obeyed, because I no I have toughched things. Amongst other things is a sand tray and we make countrys in the sand.

The strawberries in I Lower garden were all nicely netted to keep off birds (two-handed as well as two-winged), but just when they were ripe, one morning we found them all gone, and nothing but a big hole. Miss Holmes ran to it and found a big Irishman at the bottom, who only said "Orders, Mum," so that boy has now a brick drain instead of a garden. Some flowers were left and the Masters have had nice buttonholes, but I notice that impots still continue. I don't like these new copy-books, you have to write so carefully.

One day we had Fire Alarm Drill, and all got out of the School in 85 seconds without anyone running. The fire must soon have been put out, for we were all back again at work in three minutes.

Last month we had the Sanitary Inspectors for a whole week, they were quite deasant, and not nearly as bad as I expected them to be. The French one looked at Smiler and said he looked very intelligent.

At mid-term we had a picnic at Woolly Edge. Eighty boys turned up, and it was hot. We used up all the return tickets to Haigh at Kirkgate Station, and drank all the ginger-pop at Woolly. We had tea in the quarry. Banks suggested the fire, but there were only two billie cans. Mr. Baynes did not get much tea, as he was cook, but as it was chiefly tea leaves and water he didnt miss much, but it was lovely to say we had made it.

After tea Mr. Hoskings had a treasure hunt for bags of sweets. Of course, I didnt find one. One boy got stuck in a tree, and had to get a supply of safty pins for his trousers before he could reach his treasure. Then we had scouting—Uppers v. Lower. I don't know who really won the game, but we nearly mist our train. We had a good wash when we got home, for we were as black as niggers.

The chief event I think has been our match with the Girls' School, they were monstors. I nocked six and a duck, their captain nocked my six with my duck at the end. Well, if we didnt make many runs we made up with buns at tea, and we entend to do better on Monday next in the return.

I should like to tell you all about Smiler, but there is not room in this number of the Civillian."

CRICKET, 1915.

So far the result of the team matches is as follows :—

1st XI played 13, won 4, lost 8, drawn 1.

2nd XI „ 6 „ 1 „ 5 „ 0

This is not a good result, and far be it from us to attempt in this account to excuse it in any way. We nevertheless incline to the opinion that this season has seen better cricket on the part of the school than any of the three or four preceeding ones. Of the seven lost matches, at least three might just as easily have been won by us. For against Woodhouse (at home) Bradford (away) and Silcoates (at home) we lost by 13, 1, and 4 runs respectively. Another significant fact is that we have generally got our opponents entirely out, a feat which we only occasionally performed last season. Although our batting has been sadly at fault, speaking generally, yet at times, especially at Woodhouse Grove (when we knocked off 130 runs in an hour and a quarter), we have shown ourselves not entirely lacking in talent.

The real reason of our failure at cricket during the last few years is not hard to find. It lies almost entirely in the fact that we have practically no place where we can hold net-practices. The pitch itself is as good as can be expected, but after a few weeks of constant play the net-practice pitch, at the best of times not up to much, becomes unplayable. What we want is a stretch of good turf about 100 yards by 10 yards laid down, and then we could pay proper attention to the coaching of young boys and the development of individual strokes.

Until we realize this extravagant dream we must be content to lose more matches than we win and look forward to having our revenge at football.

The 2nd XI is even worse, both their bowling and fielding are very poor, but their batting is good at times.

The fielding of the 1st XI has been consistantly good all the season ; and considered individually at times brilliant.

W.G.S. v. WOODHOUSE GROVE S.

At Wakefield. May 8th, 1915.

WOODHOUSE GROVE S.

Parkinson, b. Smith	...	13
Somers, l.b.w., b. Hoyland	0
Middleton, c. and b. Hoyland	...	3
Shrewsbury, c. Ellison, b. Hoyland	...	39
Heeley, c. Massie, b. Holmes	...	6
Marsden, c. Massie, b. Holmes	...	0
Miles, b. Holmes	...	0
Spencer, c. and b. Hoyland	3
Pullan, b. Hoyland	...	2
Batty, not out	...	0
Heslop, c. Dutton, b. Hoyland	...	2
Extra	...	1

Total 69

W.G.S.

Tooth, b. Heeley,	...	0
Sudbury, c. Middleton, b. Heeley	...	1
Massie, b. Shrewsbury	...	10
Boxall, b. Shrewsbury	...	0
Holmes, b. Shrewsbury	...	18
Hayward, st. Heslop, b. Shrewsbury	...	20
Wellington, b. Shrewsbury	0
Dutton, b. Shrewsbury	...	0
Smith, G.G., not out	...	8
Hoyland, b. Shrewsbury	0
Ellison, b. Shrewsbury	...	0
Extras	...	2

Total 59

W.G.S. v. BRADFORD G.S.

At Bradford, May, 15th.

B.G.S.

Rhodes, b. Mellor	...	55
Woodcock, c. Hayward, b. Holmes	...	1
Lund, b. Holmes	...	0
Huby, b. Hoyland	...	2
Watson, b. Hoyland	...	0
Brayshaw, b. Hoyland	...	0
Proctor, b. Holmes	...	0
Hutton, l.b.w., b. Hoyland	10
Clayton, b. Holmes	...	12
Baxter, c. Dutton, b. Hoyland	...	4
Pitts, not out	...	1
Extra	...	1

Total 86

W.G.S.

Hayward, c. Baxter, b. Rhodes	...	29
Dutton, retired	...	3
Holmes, run out	...	17
Massie, b. Rhodes	...	3
Boxall, l.b.w., b. Rhodes	...	5
Sudbury, b. Brayshaw	...	8
Tooth, b. Brayshaw	...	2
Wellington, c. and b. Brayshaw	...	0
Mellor, b. Watson	...	3
Smith, b. Brayshaw	...	10
Hoyland, not out	...	2
Extras	...	3

Total 85

W.G.S. v. SILCOATES S.

At Wakefield, May 22nd.

SILCOATES S.

Field, l.b.w., b. Holmes ...	8
Ridley, l.b.w., b. Dutton ..	9
Nesbitt, b. Holmes ...	4
Brown, b. Hoyland ...	14
Berry, c. Tooth, b. Dutton	23
Greenwood, b. Dutton ...	14
Sharman, l.b.w., b. Dutton	3
Tradewell, c. & b. Holmes	13
Kaye, b. Holmes ...	8
Rose, not out ...	4
Kelly, b. Holmes ...	0
Extras ...	7

Total 107

W.G.S.

Hayward, c. Kaye, b.
Brown ...	21
Sudbury, b. Greenwood...	16
Massie, c. Ridley, b. Brown	3
Holmes, b. Kaye ...	7
Boxall, b. Kaye ...	0
Kitson, b. Kaye ...	13
Smith, b. Berry ...	4
Dutton, b. Berry...	3
Tooth, c. Tradewell, b.
Berry ...	7
Mellor, b. Kaye ...	4
Hoyland, not out...	4
Extras ...	21

Total 103

W.G.S. v. ILKLEY G.S.

At Wakefield, May 29th.

ILKLEY G.S.

Tunncliffe, c. Mellor, b.
Holmes ...	4
Gledhill, b. Holmes ...	0
Sykes, l.b.w. b. Dutton ...	2
Lickfold, b. Holmes ...	0
Musgrave, l.b.w., b. Dutton	31
Box, b. Dutton ...	1
Dove, c. Hoyland, b.
Dutton ...	0
Greenwood, c. Massie, b.
Smith ...	9
Evans, l.b.w., b. Smith ...	0
Houseman, not out ...	13
Hughes, c. and b. Holmes	8
Extras ...	3

Total 71

W.G.S.

Hayward, b. Lickfold ...	44
Sudbury, not out...	18
Holmes, not out ...	10

Extras ... 2

Total (for 1 wkt.) 74

W.G.S. v. SILCOATES SCHOOL.

[MASTERS AND BOYS.]

At Silcoates, June 5th.

W.G.S.		SILCOATES S.
Mr. Gibling, l.b.w., b. Yonge	0	Wetherill, b. Shearman...	14
Sudbury, not out...	23	Rudley, l.b.w., b. Shearman	3
Holmes, b. Berry	6	Field, run out	1
Mr. Shearman, c. Nesbitt,		Mr. Yonge, b. Shearman	38
b. Berry...	0	Brown, run out	15
Hayward, b. Berry	15	Mr. Thompson, b. Hoyland	7
Massie, c. Yonge, b. Brown	21	Berry, st. Sudbury, b.
Tooth, b. Thompson	2	Holmes...	26
Smith, c. Wetherill, b.		Nesbitt, c. Sudbury, b.
Brown	3	Holmes	6
Dutton, c. Brown, b.		Greenwood, not out	11
Thompson	0	Tradewell, b. Smith	0
Hoyland, b. Thompson	0	Kaye, l.b.w., b. Holmes	1
Mellor, l.b.w., b. Thompson	0	Extras	2
Extras	7
<hr/> Total 78		<hr/> Total 120

W.G.S. v. WAKEFIELD BATTERY, R.F.A.

At Wakefield, June 10th.

W.G.S.		R.F.A.
Hayward, c. Potter, b.		Gunn., Rhodes, b. Smith	22
Bracken...	19	Drvr. Steal, c. Holmes, b.
Sudbury, b. Bracken	2	Shearman	0
Holmes, b. Bracken	26	Drvr. Simpson, b. Holmes	0
Massie, c. Rhodes. b.		Drvr. Allen, l.b.w., b.
Potter	0	Shearman	16
Mr. Shearman, c. Steal, b.		Drvr. Archer, b. Dutton...	0
Bracken...	1	Drvr. Bracken, c. Hay-
Boxall, b. Bracken	0	ward, b. Holmes	37
Kitson, c. Archer, b. Potter	1	Drvr. Skelding, l.b.w., b.
Wellington, b. Potter	0	Shearman	13
Smith, not out	17	Drvr. Potter, c. Holmes, b.
Dutton, c. Bedford, b.		Shearman	4
Bracken...	1	Lieut. Hirst, b. Mellor	5
Mellor, l.b.w., b. Potter	0	Gunn., Bedford, not out	0
Extras	0	Gunn., Millard, b. Mellor	0
		Extras	7
<hr/> Total 67		<hr/> Total 104

W.G.S. v. RIPON G.S.

At Wakefield, June 16th.

W.G.S.		R.G.S.
Sudbury, c. Richardson, b.		Richardson, c. & b. Smith	26
Woods	4	Lee, b. Hoyland	1
Tooth, b. Woods	18	Woods, b. Hoyland	6
Holmes, b. Morton	11	Surry, b. Holmes	1
Hayward, b. Woods	16	Hamilton, run out	13
Massie, c. Surry, b. Morton	0	Ashby, b. Smith	13
Boxall, c. Morton, b. Woods	56	Well, l.b.w., b. Hoyland ...	7
Smith, b. Woods	8	Morton, c. Holmes, b.
Kitson, c. Richardson, b.		Hutchinson, b. Holmes ...	1
Morton	0	Hoyland	10
Dutton, b. Morton	0	Towers, not out	12
Mellor, b. Morton	5	Taylor, b. Hoyland	0
Hoyland, not out... ..	12	Extras	11
Extra	1
<hr/> Total 131		<hr/> Total 101

W.G.S. v. BRADFORD G.S.

At Wakefield, June 19th.

B.G.S.		W.G.S.
Rhodes, l.b.w., b. Hoyland	1	Hayward, b. Rhodes	23
Woodcock, c. Mellor, b.		Tooth, b. Rhodes... ..	26
Holmes	11	Holmes, b. Rhodes	5
Huby, c. Boxall, b. Smith	40	Sudbury, b. Hutton	3
Lund, c. Sudbury, b. Smith	7	Massie, b. Rhodes	1
Brayshaw, c. Hayward, b.	11	Boxall, b. Rhodes	1
Hutton, l.b.w., b. Smith ...	27	Smith, b. Hutton	0
Watson, b. Hoyland	6	Kitson, b. Hutton	1
Wade, b. Holmes	11	Dutton, b. Rhodes	0
Pitts, c. and b. Smith	29	Mellor, not out	11
Crowther, b. Hoyland	7	Hoyland, run out... ..	0
Tillotson, not out	6	Extras	10
Extras	11
<hr/> Total 167		<hr/> Total 81

W.G.S. v. WOODHOUSE GROVE S.

At Woodhouse Grove, June 26th.

WOODHOUSE GROVE S.

Parkinson, c. Holmes, b.
Smith	6
Somers, c. Massie, b. Dutton	8
Middleton, c. Tooth, b.
Hoyland	14
Shrewsbury, b. Smith ...	26
Granger, b. Mellor ...	5
Heeley, not out ...	37
Harrison, c. Smith, b.
Wellington	14
Miles
Spencer
Pullan
Heslop

did not bat

Extras 17

Total (for 6 wks.)*127

W.G.S.

Hayward, b. Miles ...	16
Tooth, c. Spencer, b. Pullan	35
Holmes, c. Middleton, b.
Miles	30
Massie, b. Pullan...	9
Boxall, c. Heslop, b.
Pullan	4
Sudbury, c. Heslop, b. Miles	5
Wellington, not out ...	17
Smith, not out	5
Dutton
Mellor
Hoyland

did not bat

Extras 12

Total (for 6 wks.) 129

*Innings declared closed.

W.G.S. v. HYMER'S COLLEGE, HULL.

At Wakefield, July 3rd.

H.C.H.

Ashby, c. Tooth, b. Hoyland	4
Mecombe, c. Tooth, b
Holmes	6
Peckett, run out ...	0
Billam, S., b. Smith ...	34
Wakeman, b. Hoyland ...	0
Stephenson, c. Sudbury,
b. Dutton	17
Billam, D., b. Holmes ...	30
Stewart, b. Dutton ...	6
Runter, c. Wellington, b.
Smith	26
Calvert, not out ...	40
Coaltass, c. Smith, b. Mellor	0
Extras	3

Total 166

W.G.S.

Hayward, b. Calvert ...	16
Sudbury, c. Stephenson, b.
Calvert	7
Holmes, b. Calvert ...	4
Massie, b. Calvert ...	4
Boxall, b. Peckett ...	12
Wellington, c. & b. Peckett	16
Tooth, b. Peckett...	3
Smith, c. Peckett, b.
Calvert	10
Dutton, b. Stephenson ...	9
Mellor, not out	0
Hoyland, b. Stephenson...	0
Extras	4

Total 85

CHARACTERS OF TEAM.

- *S. P. HAYWARD (Captain).—Has again proved a very efficient leader, and has had the satisfaction of seeing some improvement in his team since last season. Himself the best batsman in the team, he has assisted several of the younger players considerably in the development of their style. Has scored consistently during the season, though without achieving many very high totals. In the field he is a safe catch.
- *E. R. SUDBURY (Vice-Captain).—A good safe bat who may generally be relied on to stay in for some time. Might make more use of his reach when playing forward. Plays well on the leg side. Has stumped all the season with great success, and in this capacity especially has proved invaluable.
- *J. S. G. HOLMES.—A brilliant player both with bat and ball. As a bowler he might improve the accuracy of his length. He has a splendid action. As a bat, he is good especially on the off. He is liable to lift a short-pitched ball when driving it to extra cover. His hitting is powerful, and his fielding excellent.
- *W. C. TOOTH.—A batsman who has improved every match, and who now shows real talent, especially when playing on the leg. As a rule he is very steady, but can drive powerfully when occasion demands. His fielding at point has been persistently brilliant.
- *G. HOYLAND.—Has proved to be the mainstay of the bowling all the season. Although we have had few wickets which have suited him entirely, he has shown steady and reliable merit all through the season. Perhaps he would have more success if he could vary his pace more. A hard-hitting bat and good safe field.
- *W. H. MASSIE.—A batsman who has hardly come up to expectations this season. His luck has been bad all through. His best strokes are to the off and especially to extra cover. Should learn to reach further out when playing forward. Has bowled at times with great success. A very good field at cover point.
- M. W. J. BOXALL.—An erratic bat who has not always come off well this season. On the occasions that he has survived the first few overs he has displayed great powers. He drives to leg in a terrific style but should cultivate a purely defensive forward stroke. Has improved his play on the off of late. A very good long field.

- G. G. SMITH.—A player who has improved very much this season especially in batting. A slow bowler who can make the ball break a good deal. Rather lacks stamina, and should try to develop an occasional fast ball. As it is, his pace does not deceive the batsman at all. A good field.
- H. DUTTON.—As a bowler, he has not been so successful as was expected at the begining of the season, His direction is still rather erratic. His batting is very promising, and he makes up for his lack of reach by sound playing back. Must cultivate his fielding.
- A. MELLOR.—A safe player. Keeps a good length when bowling, and does not easily tire. Rather lacks confidence when batting. A magnificent field.
- R. E. L. WELLINGTON.—A young and promising player who is rather apt to lose his head when at the wicket. Drives with surprising vigour and plays forward well. Has bowled occasionally, but will have to pay more attention to his length if he wants to be useful in this department of the game. A safe fielder.
- T. G. ARMSTRONG AND W. D. KITSON.—have also played. The former is a rapidly improving right arm slow bowler. He keeps a very good length. The latter is a batsman of no mean merit, but very slow in the the field.

* Signifies Colours.

THE SCHOOL IN WAR TIME.

It is a libel, and hereafter will be condemned, to say that our Corps possesses the original of that story which tells of the sigh of relief heard when the order "eyes right" was given. "Thank goodness" said the weary one, "I'm right about something at last."

We are quite efficient, and certainly outbalance a lack of smartness by a surplus of enthusiasm.

On parade we are regarded as a company, and number therefore, four platoons, but of late we have discarded the smaller boys and drill as three platoons only. The first platoon is equipped with dummy rifles. Thus, in addition to company drill, we do squad drill with arms.

To certain favoured ones permission is given to attend two drills per week in shooting. Hitherto we have been content with bullseye targets. Now, our pride refuses all in favour of the parti-coloured mystery, which at twenty-five yards appears to be a man lying on a grass field. Close to, it looks quite harmless, yet, at the distance which makes it indistinct, one can imagine more than meets the eye, especially as it fades away altogether when the sights are in focus, or else appears in duplicate.

Military drill in itself has a strong appeal, because of its inevitable truthfulness. Being conducted according to the laws of mathematics, it cannot err. There is nothing more refreshing to minds fed upon the mutabilities of art than a perfectly definite work which can only be completed in one way.

IN CAMP WITH THE Y.M.C.A.

I felt exceedingly virtuous as I clambered out of the train at my destination and demanded the way to the camp. It was the Easter Holidays and thoughts of Duty and Patriotism were surging in my bosom. The town where I was destined to stay for the next three weeks was a sleepy old Yorkshire market town on the moors, and the camp was a collection of huts situated on the side of a hill. Their picturesque grouping, together with the wide moorland prospect which they embraced, made it an ideal spot.

In reply to the sentry's display of iron I uttered (somewhat self-consciously and feeling like the young man in "Excelsior") the mystic letters Y.M.C.A. whereat I was admitted without further delay into the little community.

The Y.M.C.A. hut proved to be a long, comfortable, cool-looking building, painted inside in green and white. Round the two cheerfully-burning stoves were ranged comfortable cane armchairs occupied by men who smoked, read or slept. Tables with writing materials filled up one side of the room, and the building was provided with a stage (equipped with footlights, &c.) at one end and at the other a counter. After greeting my fellow helpers we went through into the adjoining quarters. These proved very comfortable indeed and it was apparent that there would be very little question of "roughing it."

Our duties were of a very miscellaneous character. In addition to running a post-office, bank, library and taking the responsibility, we had to do such varied things as superintending the fatigue parties at their daily cleaning, arranging for concerts and services, printing large placards, and doing anything else which wanted doing.

Stationery was supplied free to the men and from a battalion (about 1,300 men) as many as 400 letters have passed through the box in the Y.M.C.A. hut alone in one day. The note paper supplied is attractive and it is obvious that far, far more letters are written than would be without their care. The Y.M.C.A. hut is the only place in the camp where a private can get a quiet and comfortable chair, and at the end of a day of hard physical work, that is his chief desire. However, everyone is now realizing the immense amount of good the Y.M.C.A. are doing, so it is not necessary to go into it very fully here.

The men of the new army are of every type and rank, and a Y.M.C.A. worker gets to know them better perhaps than anyone else. Many of them have given up good positions to enlist, many on the other hand have passed eventful lives. One man I met had been left quite a respectable fortune but had run through it in a year in seeing the world, he had then joined the army and been nearly killed by a bursting gun, had recovered and joined the new army. Another had been respectively a butcher and a boxer. With such men as these to talk to one does not get much monotony.

If one has a sense of humour it is necessary to preserve always perfect seriousness. For instance, a man confided in me one day that he was trying to persuade every man in his hut to sign the pledge. He was extremely proud of his achievement. A few days later he came up again. He had made everyone sign a pledge card and pin it over his bed and he asked me if I could not, in recognition of his good work make him a little presentation! His wife, he said, was coming over on Saturday and she would be pleased to find him in such favour. I managed to keep my face straight and said that I was sure that the Y.M.C.A. would be delighted to make him some such little presentation. I thereupon with great solemnity presented him with a pocket Testament (value 3d.), which was the only thing which I could find, after first inscribing a few choice words on the fly-leaf. He was as pleased as anything and on the Saturday brought up his wife to introduce her. She evidently ruled him with a rod of iron. On the other hand another came up one day and asked if he might take a pledge card. I said that of course he could, and asked him if he would like me to sign it as a witness. He gazed at me with a look of blank amazement, changing, as my meaning dawned upon him to amused pity, and replied that he only wanted it to use the blank side for a label!

Tact is needed in dealing with concert parties who arrive when not expected, when one has to soothe their ruffled feelings, and misunderstandings of this kind if not frequent, do happen occasionally.

The more one sees of the men of the new army the more one likes them ; they possess the highest qualities of unselfishness and everlasting cheerfulness ; most of them, to whom the life is novel, are like a lot of jolly schoolboys on a holiday, and take every hardship, every laborious task as it comes, with the most imperturbable goodwill. To live amongst them is a privilege, and one has hardly ever a dull moment.

I, for my part, was exceedingly sorry when, on the first day of the new term I said good-bye to my new friends, and took my departure schoolwards.

CIRCUMAMBIENT DEFINITION or PLATITUDES ON TACT.

TACT, like spirals, Holy Roman Emperors, and other words or phrases without common-place synonyms, is excessively hard to define ; for the dictionary is of little assistance, and other methods, less direct if more effectual, must be used to insinuate the idea.

A kick, a touch, a loud noise, absolute silence, a sneeze or a somersault, may prove as perfect examples of true tact as the spoken word or the politic letter. The vehicles of tact are as the sands of the sea innumerable, and depend for their successful use only on the facility of their controller to hide the fact that he is controlling. Tact is at least akin to Art in that it must be concealed.

When the main gate resists the attack, the postern is sometimes vulnerable. Logicians will agree that all not-tact is tact. Given then an example of really tactless behaviour, its opposite may become more apparent. Ardently to praise pork and condemn sauerkraut in the presence of one who has changed his name from German-Jew to Norman-English, might appear to be the limit of tactlessness. Yet, here once more circumstances alter cases. Your very tactlessness may lull your hearer into feeling that you did not realise the necessity for tact, may make him believe that he has really achieved a North Sea change, has re-moulded his nose and refined his gutturals, and may safely clamour for Detention of Aliens and England for the English.

Simile, that treacherous servant, helps a little ; for tact can truly be compared to several hydrocarbons. Like indiarubber it grows thinner when stretched, like oil it has a proverbial effect on troubled waters. Second-rate tact too is comparable to treacle, it is cloying-sweet, sticky, and becomes thin under the pressure of heat. Nature and a Vacuum are not more friendly than tact and temper.

In the modern world constitutional monarchs, bishops and headmasters are celebrated practisers of tact. The monarchs invariably, the bishops intermittently, and the headmasters on occasion. Those queer hybrids the bishop-headmasters, products of push and the party system, have frequently achieved their ambitions assisted by a reputation greatly enhanced by tales of their incorrigible rudeness. They would scorn to be called tactful, yet, tactful they are, for rudeness, so long as it is sustained and predictable, need cause no awkwardness. Surprise at the wrong time is tact's greatest enemy.

A candidate for a bishopric is necessarily limited in his choice of bon-mots, yet, these are an essential part of the stock-in-trade of the ambitious. A rude remark can be truly episcopal, and once a man has established a reputation for rudeness, lesser mortals will be the butt of his remarks for the pleasure of repeating them. It is much safer to be rude than witty.

Tact is not the prerogative of the great alone, for it is universal and almost instinctive. A psychologist might spend many happy hours in discovering the earliest age at which the human infant shows evidence of practising it. Infantile tact, however, is almost invariably used for selfish reasons, and "lying" is the harsh term sometimes applied to it.

In some respects this article is tactful. Tactful to the editor, because it enables him to cover space with innocuous if banal matter, to the author, who has disarmed obvious criticism by his sub-title, to public opinion, because the Kaiser is not really a constitutional monarch.

GERMAN UNIVERSITIES.

THE war which is devastating Europe, and is being carried on with such relentless activity by our enemies, absorbs the attention of everyone to such an extent that it makes it practically impossible to give sustained consideration to anything else. Possibly these somewhat disjointed remarks on a subject only indirectly connected with it will not be altogether without interest.

There are nearly thirty German universities. This bare fact alone shows that they believe in education over there. Many of their writers have stated that the work done in class-room, lecture-hall and laboratory will win for them the World War. In their opinion the universities are perfect in all details of study and organisation. A medical student will write his thesis on the dissection of a butterfly's wing, while a professor is reputed to have written a book of three volumes on the development of a single word. However, no matter what their merits or demerits may be, it is quite true that German universities have attracted a much larger number of foreign students than those of any other country.

The academic year consists of two terms, and six of the latter must be completed by the candidate for a degree or the State examination. It is usual to spend some of these at different places, and it was possible some time back to study a term each at six different university towns, and proceed for examination to a seventh one. Research work plays a more important part than it does in our country, and the writing of a dissertation on some original subject is necessary to obtain admission to the oral examination. This generally takes place in the morning, when the candidate, attired in a dress suit, has questions showered upon him by four professors during a period of two hours.

Only four lectures a week are essential for the student to keep a term. No record of the actual attendance at these is kept, and the astute shirker can sometimes cut them assiduously during the greater part of the course, and then by regular appearance towards the end obtain the lecturer's signature, and thus comply with the regulations. Apart from those who use a university as a means of training there are, naturally, some who do not. These look upon professors and the like as being provided for amusement rather than instruction, or show their lack of sympathy by ignoring their existence. Indeed, for those who wish to take things easy, German akademische Freiheit is a thing to be conjured with. There are neither chapels to attend in the early morning nor porters' lodges to creep through late at night. Ample means for study are provided, but little force or moral suasion are used to induce the reluctant student to avail himself of them.

Sport, in recent years, has come somewhat into the foreground. Laughing at the idea of kicking an inflated piece of leather about has been superseded by the Germans doing it with zest themselves. Still, the great amusement remains, beer drinking. Ribbons are awarded for prowess in this achievement, and the student who is the proud possessor of three such badges of honour may be said, in the opinion of many a German Corps student, to have reached the high-water mark of his career. When one realises the liking of the average Teuton for the national beverage, the decrease in the production of beer which, according to the papers, is now taking place in Germany, must give our erstwhile cousins furiously to think. Duelling is another accomplishment to which the German studiosus is addicted. He often presents a singular appearance owing to sticking plaster and bandages. Scars are sometimes stated to be the result of wounds self-inflicted by those who wish to give themselves a more martial appearance. Singing songs at the Kneipe and during walks over hill and dale are also part and parcel of the ordinary life.

Times have changed. The universities must now be nearly deserted. Few Englishmen will probably avail themselves, in future, of the invitation to study there. Those who have already done so, may recall, with sadness, pleasant days spent in a foreign land. They may know, as somebody recently said, that there is another Germany besides the Germany with which the newspapers have made us lately familiar; that besides the German officers and soldiers there are those of the German people who have been kind to them abroad, and for whom they feel that special affection for the friend whom we have laughed at and laughed with; that Nietzsche is not the only German philosopher, and that there are other German writers besides Bernhardt, but they will also realise better, the terrible nature of the crime perpetrated by the German government, not only against the other nations of Europe, but also against the better section of their own kith and kin.

DE RERUM NATURA or the VAGARIES OF THE WEATHER.

NATURE, and especially climate, when treated theistically, appears at first the most fickle of all the Gods. He is, therefore, the most human, and was long ago depicted by the Ancients in the form of the most light-hearted and crafty creature their imagination could suggest.

All that glorious sanctity which enshrouded Nature, has, alas, long since passed from the earth. The power of interpreting Nature even disappears (at least, partially), with the slow but sure approach of senility. Plato and Wordsworth both knew that in their own lives "there had passed a glory from the Earth," but the entire glory that Plato's generation felt in the Freedom and Antics of Dionysus or Pan has been for ever obliterated from the sight of their less fortunate successors.

Now, the phantom of Nature is bereft of all those delightful malformations and discrepancies which once made him so charmingly ugly, and so much beloved. Now, men by cutting his hair, clothing his body, and paring his nails, emasculate him with the precision and propriety characteristic of everything Modern, and have unknowingly and unmeaningly robbed him of his very nature and beauty.

Occasionally, even in these hard times he breaks the fetters which have been rigorously bound about his form, and with Promethean vigour resumes, in some measure, his former capricious delights. When he follows this—his appropriate course, he becomes at once the butt of threats and curses as numberless as they are varied. He is treated together with midges, dentists, examiners, executioners and all other things hurtful, as one of the irresistible banes of life, to be endured but never enjoyed.

When the heart of the Titan God—that glory of the Ancient world is light and frolicsome with love, and the land is warmed by the continuous radiance of the sun, then men cry out for rain and cold. When he sheds his copious tears, then men vainly imagine they love heat and drought. When the lightsome and mischievous mood takes possession of him, and Aeolus gives rein to his windy steeds to take their fill of sport and joy among the trees and dust, then is mankind annoyed, and blazes with wrath and indignation more fierce than just. Never does it enter the empty head of dissatisfied mankind that it is but the wind which is keeping away the threatened rain, or that the scorching sun is the sole banisher of winter's frost. Well may the Gods of Nature cry aloud "we have piped and ye would not dance; we have wept and ye would not mourn."

Man has then to retire baffled before the profound and irrefutable logic of what seemed to him fickle Nature, and to confess that it is himself alone who is childish and fickle, even as he is short-sighted and selfish. He realises that he is a mere child in the hands of Nature, who shows his wondering eyes that for all things some fitting compensation is in store :

"In front the sun climbs slow, how slowly.
But westward, look, the land is bright!"

SALVETE ET VALETE.

Salvete

III A.	I U.	G. Walker.
R. P. Brimblecombe.	B. G. Ewing.	J. W. Thomson.
III B.	F. H. Stephenson.	F. S. Pollard,
L. C. De Vis.	I L.	T. S. Ellis.
III c.	A. Davy.	W. Dronfield.
G. Lancaster.	R. E. Knox.

Valete

VI CL.	T. Watson.	A. Waite.
G. W. Webster.	H. Woodcock.	IV A.
J. E. Kilburn.	VI L (b)	S. Walker.
A. R. Salmon.	H. S. Chapman.	IV B.
G. C. Scott.	H. C. Dews.	C. R. Green.
VI M.	W. D. Kitson.	D. Blacker.
S. P. Hayward.	G. Sutton.	G. N. Wood.
H. L. Hopper.	N. S. Smith.	III A.
W. H. Brooke.	V A.	W. Beaumont.
P. E. Dixon.	A. R. Brown.	II U.
W. Garbett.	A. B. Hayden.	L. Green.
R. Hodgkins.	W. H. Horsfall.	II L.
W. C. Tooth.	J. J. Lister.	E. H. Henderson.
VI L (a)	V B.	I U.
J. R. Gillespie.	J. Poole.	C. S. Fielding.
W. H. Massie.	J. H. Smith.	I L.
G. W. Pettinger.	R. Stringer.	F. G. Wright.

OLD SAVILIAN NOTES.

OUR first words this month must express the sincere sympathy of the members of the Old Savilians' Club with the School staff and boys in the grievous loss they have sustained by the death of their old colleague and friend, Mr. Brooke. For nearly thirty years he had done his allotted work quietly, steadfastly and without any attempt at showiness, whilst the name given him by the boys and by which he was best known to them, aptly expressed the feelings of endearment felt by the great majority of those who came under his fatherly care.

× × ×

It is our melancholy duty to chronicle the death of Old Savilians whilst on active service with the forces of our Empire now engaged in different parts of Europe: 2nd Lieut. C. B. Sugden, and Lieut. R. Marsden.

New Members :—

Mr. J. E. Kilburn, Rodono, St. John's, Wakefield.

Mr. F. J. Beard, Headquarters, West Riding Constabulary, Wakefield.

Mr. Cyril Barber, Briestfield Road, Edge Top, Thornhill, Yorks.

Mr. Benj. Stephenson, 34 Bond Street, Wakefield.

Mr. W. H. Brooke, Wyndyate, Wakefield.

Mr. Cyril Burgess, 25 Berners Street, Wakefield.

Mr. Norman C. Green, 2 Claremont, Bradford Road, Wakefield

x x x

Altered Addresses :—

Mr. James Holdsworth, Chevet Lane, Sandal, Wakefield.

Mr. Stanley M. Hill, 6 Heathfield Avenue, Dover.

Mr. Alfred Webster, Rayside, Whalley Road, Accrington.

Mr. M. H. Peacock, 21 North Moor Road, Oxford.

x x x

Will our members please note our Honorary Treasurer's new address :—

Mr. J. W. Berry, 99 South Moor Road, Hemsworth, nr. Wakefield.

and oblige him by paying their subscriptions, due on May 1st, direct to him, without delay.

x x x

Dr. MacKenzie, O.S., of Leeds, the well-known golf architect, has been given a commission in the Royal Engineers, and is giving up bunker designing for trench making. In the early days of the war, Dr. MacKenzie laid before the War Office his ideas, based upon his experience of golf course architecture, as to making trenches invisible to the foe. Dr. MacKenzie's commission is, presumably, an expression of the desire of the authorities, that he shall have an opportunity of putting his ideas into practice. The Doctor has done a great work for the improvement of Yorkshire golf courses, and all golfers who have found additional pleasure in this game by reason of his work, will wish him success in his new undertaking.

The following successes have recently been gained by Old Savilians:—

- A. G. Shackleton has gained a First Class in the first part of the Mathematical Tripos and has been awarded a continued scholarship and a prize of £5 for Mathematics.
- J. Senior, B.A., has received Dr. Greene's Cup for General Learning.
- J. Y. Ingham has obtained a Second Class in the Final Honour School of Mathematics, Oxford.
- J. S. Bywater has been awarded a Third Class in the Final Honour School of Theology.
- J. F. C. Bashforth has been awarded a Third Class in the Final Honour School of Theology.
- A. A. D. la Touche has passed 4th in the Leaving examination for Dartmouth and Keyham Naval Colleges, and has been gazetted Midshipman on H.M.S. Colossus.
- W. D. Clayton has been gazetted from the Royal Military College, Sandhurst, to a Second Lieutenancy in the 3rd Yorkshire Regiment.
- F. N. Harrap has obtained First Class Honours in the Final B.Sc. examination in Leather Manufacture, and the M.Sc. degree in Pure Chemistry, Leeds University.
- C. Liley has obtained First Class Honours in the Final Examination of the City and Guilds of London Institute, in Wool Dyeing.

SCHOOL ROLL OF HONOUR.—CONTD.

THE following additional names of Old Savilians serving in His Majesty's Forces have been received since the last issue of the Savilian. The full total on the list compiled by Mr. Head is now 255.

- E. Briggs, Private, Army Service Corps, Motor Transport.
- F. Colbeck, 2nd Lieut., 4th K.O.Y.L.I.
- A. H. Collins, Gunner, Honourable Artillery Company.
- P. L. Dobinson, Private, Inns of Court Rifles.
- R. H. Fallas, Driver, Royal Field Artillery, Wakefield Battery.

H. Fallows, Lab. Assistant, Royal Army Medical Corps.
 N. C. Green, Private, Royal Army Medical Corps.
 J. D. Hall, Private, 3rd Battalion, Northumberland Cyclist Corps.
 H. S. Haworth, 2nd Lieut., 4th Battallion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 N. W. Henson, Private, North Midland Mounted Brigade Field Ambulance.
 A. K. Hewlett, Sergeant, 127th Company, 11th Reserve Park, Army Service Corps.
 J. Holroyd, Corporal, 155th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.
 T. H. Hugill, Lance-Corporal, 161st Battery, Royal Field Artillery.
 C. R. Ingham, Private, 5th Battalion, Royal Fusiliers.
 H. Jackson, Private, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 F. M. Lawrence, Private, Royal Field Artillery.
 T. B. Little, 2nd Lieut., 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 W. Malkin, Lance-Corporal, 8th Battalion, Royal Warwicks.
 W. E. Ostler, Private, Royal Army Medical Corps.
 T. Pickles, Private, 4th Battalion, West Kent Regiment.
 D. Ramsden, Cadet, Transport S.S. "Manchester Engineer."
 A. H. Smith, Driver, Army Service Corps.
 M. W. C. Sprott, 2nd Lieut., 9th Battalion, Norfolk Regiment.
 H. Stanger, M.B., Lieut., Royal Army Medical Corps.
 J. E. Stocks, Seaman, Royal Naval Division.
 H. Sykes, Private, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 H. V. Taylor, Private, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 A. A. D. la Touche, Midshipman, H.M.S. "Colossus."
 A. Walker, Private, Army Service Corps.
 G. W. Webster, Private, Inns of Court Rifles.

× × ×

Information has come to hand that the following promotions have taken place among Old Savilians:—

G. R. Aspinwall, Captain, 10th West Yorkshire Regiment.
 E. J. C. Ashmore, Lieut., 10th Gurkha Rifles.
 J. H. Bates, 2nd Lieut., 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.

G Beaumont, M.A., B.C.L., Captain, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 E. B. Brownbill, Lance-Corporal, Army Service Corps.
 G. T. Carpenter, Corporal, Queen's Own Yorkshire Dragoons.
 W. D. Clayton, 2nd Lieut., 3rd Yorkshire Regiment.
 N. F. Cooke, Lance-Corporal, Leeds Battalion, P.W.O. West
 Yorkshire Light Infantry.
 W. B. Creswick, Captain, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 J. P. Firth, Captain, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 J. Fullerton, Lance-Corporal, London Scottish.
 A. Greenwood, Lieut.-Col., Sanitary Officer, 2nd Army Central Force.
 C. F. Hadfield, Corporal, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 R. N. Hardcastle, Major, 2nd Manchester Regiment.
 C. L. Harris, Lance-Corporal, 72nd Seaforth Highlanders,
 Canadian Contingent.
 H. S. Harrison, Signal Boy, H.M.S. "Bellerophon."
 T. H. Hugill, Lance-Corporal, 161st Battery (Wakefield), Royal Field Artillery.
 F. A. Kingswell, Lieut., Queen's Own Yorkshire Dragoons.
 F. W. Lawe, Lieut., 3rd Battalion, East Yorkshire Regiment.
 G. H. Loxley, Corporal, 4th P.S. Battalion, Royal Fusiliers.
 B. T. Metcalfe, Captain, 10th London Regiment.
 C. J. Michell, Lance-Corporal, Queen's Own Yorkshire
 Dragoons.
 M. Milner, 2nd Lieut., 8th Battalion, East Yorkshire Regiment.
 E. C. Moorhouse, Captain, 8th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 A. J. Mountain, 2nd Lieut., 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 J. J. Muirhead, Lieut., 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 E. P. W. Muschamp, Lieut., 14th Notts. and Derby Regiment.
 G. W. Myers, 2nd Lieut., 8th W. Yorkshire Regiment, Leeds Rifles.
 S. C. Myers, 2nd Lieut., 8th W. Yorks. Regiment, Leeds Rifles.
 J. Y. Ogley, Sergeant, Grenadier Guards.
 H. Oughtred, M.A., 2nd Lieut., 4th Battalion, East Yorkshire Regiment.
 J. O. H. Pearman, M.A., 2nd Lieut., 13th Warwickshires.

H. Quest, 2nd Lieut., 14th York and Lancaster Regiment.
 C. R. Reynolds, Lieut., West Riding Divisional Army Service Corps.
 P. R. Reynolds, Major, West Riding Divisional Army Service Corps.
 W. J. Shaw, 2nd Lieut., 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 S. P. Shippam, Sergeant, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 V. Tansley, 2nd Lieut., 8th Battalion, W. Yorkshire Regiment, Leeds Rifles.
 C. V. Townsend, 2nd Lieut., 7th Shropshire L.I.
 H. Townsend, 2nd Lieut., 11th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 J. Trenholme, Sergeant, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 A. K. Wilson, Lieut., Officer Commanding O.T.C., Derby School.

x x x

The following Old Savilians have been officially reported killed in action :—

2nd Lieut. C. B. Sugden, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I., May 25th, in France.
 1st Lieut. R. Marsden, 8th Battalion, Manchester Regiment, June 7th, in the Dardanelles.

x x x

The following have been wounded :—

Lieut. E. J. C. Ashmore, 10th Gurkha Rifles.
 Acting-Bombardier M. W. Cobby, 10th Heavy Battery, R.G.A.
 Corporal R. F. T. Cobby, 12th Heavy Battery, R.G.A.
 Captain W. B. Creswick, 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.
 2nd Lieut. R. W. A. Usher, 7th Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers.

Lieut. T. H. L. Stebbing, 5th Battalion, Notts. and Derby Regiment, Sherwood Foresters.

2nd Lieut., H. E. Sladden, B.A., 4th Battalion, K.O.Y.L.I.

Private J. E. Quinn, Leeds Battalion, P.W.O. West Yorks L.I., has been invalided home.

x x x

Corporal Gerald Copley of the Green Howards, who was wounded and taken prisoner by the Germans last October, has returned home. He was exchanged along with some R.A.M.C. prisoners last week. His release was due to a mistake by the Germans, who thought he was an ambulance man.